

POLICE ARE BAFFLED IN SEARCH.

Torture Does Not Force Expected Confession From Wife of Assassin of Vilardo.

[Special to THE TRIBUNE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE HER ARREST AS ONE OF HER HUSBAND'S ACCOMPLICES IN THE MURDER OF BIAGIO VILARDO, MRS. ROSA TORTURICI WAS INTERVIEWED BY A NEWSPAPER MAN THIS MORNING.

A CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE, ACCOMPANIED BY POLICE COMMISSIONER GRADY, WAS PERMITTED TO SEE HER FOR A SHORT TIME, AND TO HIM SHE REPEATED HER DECLARATIONS OF INNOCENCE. AGAIN SHE ADMITTED THAT SHE BELIEVED HER HUSBAND, PIETRO, HAD KILLED AND BUTCHERED VILARDO, BUT SHE DENIED THAT SHE HAD A GUILTY KNOWLEDGE OF THE CRIME, AND SHE PROTESTED THAT SHE HAD BEEN A TRUE WIFE TO HER HUSBAND AND HAD DONE NOTHING WRONG.

THE POLICE ARE BAFFLED. THEY ADMIT THAT THEY HAVE NO IDEA OF THE WHEREABOUTS OF TORTURICI, THE MAN SUSPECTED OF THE MURDER, AND THAT THE TRIP TO EUREKA BEGUN BY THREE POLICEMEN WAS IN THE NATURE OF A FOOL'S ERRAND.

CANDIDLY THEY ADMIT THAT THE CRUEL "SWEATING" PROCESS TO WHICH THEY HAVE SUBJECTED THE YOUNG WIFE AND MOTHER HAS SO FAR PROVED A FAILURE. IN THE LANGUAGE OF CAPTAIN OF DETECTIVES BURNETT, "THEY ARE ALL AT SEA," BUT EVERY DETECTIVE AND PATROLMAN IN THE DEPARTMENT IS WORKING WITH FEVERISH ENTHUSIASM ON THE CASE THAT PROMISES TO BECOME ONE OF THE FAMOUS MURDER MYSTERIES OF AN AGE OF MYSTERIOUS MURDERS.

CAPTAIN BURNETT SAYS HE BELIEVES TORTURICI HAS LEFT THE CITY, BUT MANY OF THE MEN UNDER HIM THINK THE MURDERER IS STILL IN HIDING IN THE LATIN QUARTER.

WOMAN IS NERVOUS.

Accompanied by Police Commissioner Grady, a representative of THE TRIBUNE went to the cell in the City Prison, where Mrs. Torturici is confined. She was nervous and her careworn features and drooping head and shoulders showed plainly how severe had been the ordeal through which she has passed.

Mrs. Torturici speaks very little English, but seems to understand everything that is said to her.

When asked how she felt after viewing the body of the man her husband is believed to have murdered and quartered, she gasped:

"Por Dio, it was wrong; they are not men to do that."

"Do you think your husband killed Vilardo?" she was asked.

"I think so, but I do not know. The men quarreled and I left. I know nothing more. If Pietro had been jealous he would have killed me, too."

"Were you friendly with Vilardo?"

"Just friendly," she replied, wearily, "just friendly, that is all."

Then Police Surgeon Jones arrived to examine the unfortunate woman. He said that her condition, bordering on nervous prostration, was no proof of guilt; that any woman, especially a frail one, would succumb to the ordeal to which Mrs. Torturici had been subjected.

"It is true that the woman is in a deplorable state physically, but that is due to the exciting scenes through which she has passed," said Dr. Jones.

"Innocent or guilty it would be difficult for any woman to withstand the strain. She has been deprived of nourishment for her child, and is on the verge of nervous collapse."

VIEWS THE BODY.

It was upon the request of District Attorney Byington that Mrs. Torturici was forced to view the corpse of the murdered man, as recorded in THE TRIBUNE last evening.

Yesterday morning it was suggested that the accused woman be taken to the Morgue to see the butchered body of the Mafia's victim, but Captain of Detectives Burnett objected.

"It would do little good," said he, "and would create public sentiment in favor of the woman."

But District Attorney Byington favored the old method of confronting the accused person with the supposed victim, and the chief of the detective bureau finally consented.

Supported by Detectives Ed Gibson and McMahon, Mrs. Torturici was led to the autopsy room of the Morgue, where the dismembered body of Vilardo lay upon a slab. At the threshold the babe was taken from the mother's arms. One step inside the chamber of death and the woman threw her arm across her eyes and would have fallen had it not been for the support of the officers.

"Por Dio," she shrieked, "for God's sake, no!"

Then she turned and with all her frail strength fought the two burly policemen who held her until she reached the corridor.

Screaming and calling upon the saints in her native tongue to protect her, the woman was led back to Captain Burnett's office, where he and the District Attorney again questioned her. She replied as she had done before the trying ordeal.

Suddenly the blood-stained blanket and shawl in which the body was wrapped and the cleaver that dismembered the body were exposed to view. Again she shrieked, and again she repeated her story.

ENDURES TORTURE.

All this torture could not wring from the daughter of the Mafia the confession which the police believe she will eventually make. They have thrust her into the presence of the dead, have temporarily deprived her of her child, have shown her the ghastly relics of the crime; but it has been without results save to prostrate her physically and mentally.

"La Mafia never was betrayed," is a familiar quotation in the Quarter Latin.

When Captain Burnett was asked today whether he would take away the babe permanently, he replied that he would not, although yesterday he was convinced that by doing so he could force a confession from the mother.

Captain Burnett has now returned to his first theory that the crime was the result of domestic trouble; that Torturici killed Vilardo because of jealousy. But the men who are working under the captain think differently, and every detective who is working on the case is taking precautions that the warnings they have received from the Mafia are not carried out.

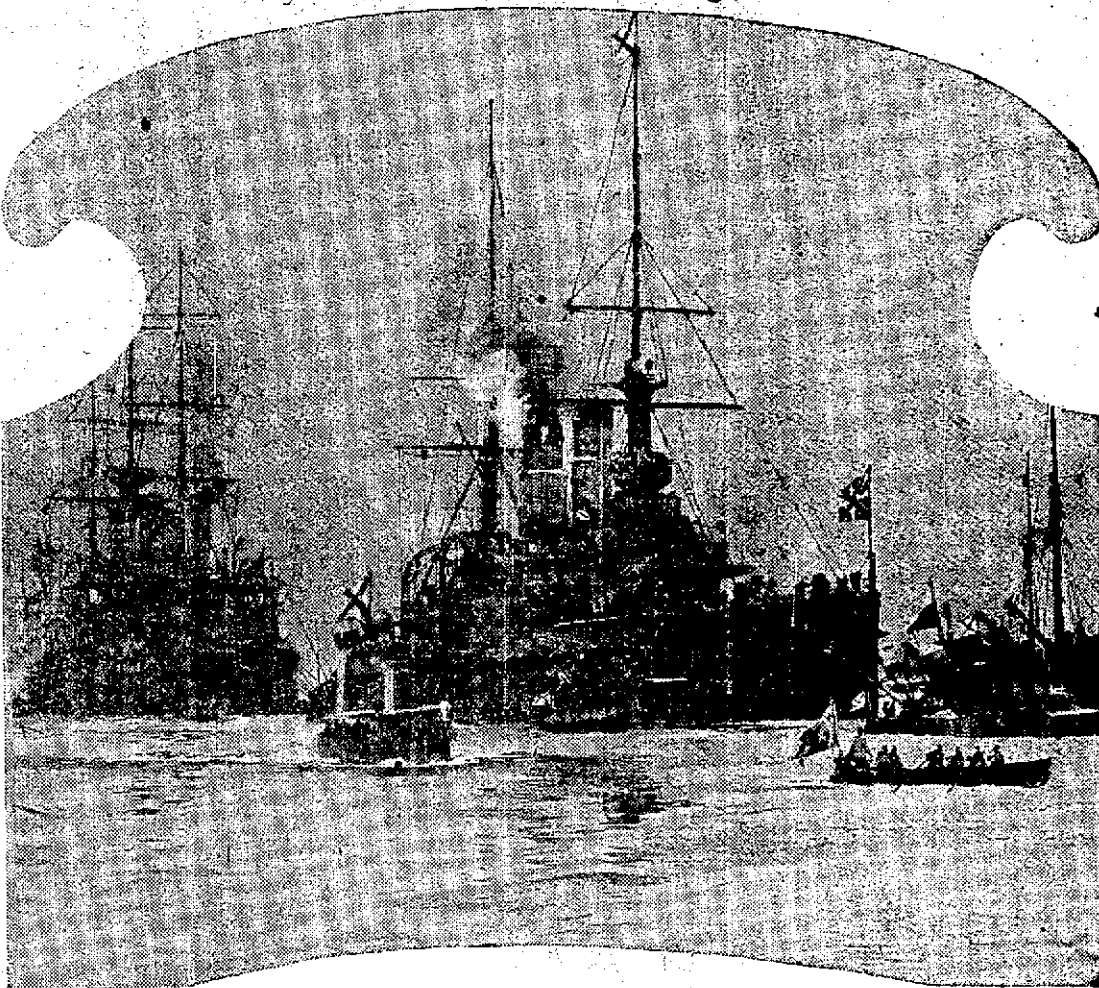

DETECTIVES RETURN.

The police are now certain that the Italian who went to Eureka on the steamer Jaqua was not Torturici, and Detective Tom Gibson and Patrolmen Ewalt and Esola, who started north in search of the fugitive, have been recalled.

The man who was supposed to have been Torturici proves to be Pietro Cattilino, and he went north to visit his

ROJESTVENSKY WILL MAKE A JUNCTURE BEFORE HE RISKS BATTLE

RUSSIAN WARSHIPS ON THE WAY TO THE ORIENT.

Admiral Togo is Said to Have Taken a Lot of New Guns on His Ships—Position of the Squadrons.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 11, 4:35 p. m.—Whether Vice-Admiral Rojestsvensky's battleship division passed through the Straits of Sunda or the Straits of Malacca, it is practically certain that he is moving now to effect a juncture with the division which passed Singapore April 8.

It is possible that this may not take place until the two divisions reach Cape Padaran, on the east coast of Cochin China.

The dispatches from Singapore, naming the ships which passed there Sunday, after erroneous in several particulars, notably in the case of the Fuerst Bismark, re-christened the Don, which is still at Libau.

LOST BALLOON.

The cruiser Russ was fitted with a captive balloon for observation purposes, and though she left originally with Rojestsvensky, at a trial off Gotland the rope connecting the balloon with the ship parted and the balloon was lost. The Russ consequently was compelled to return. Later she went out with Admiral Botrovsky's division.

JAP SQUADRON.

According to the admiralty's information the Japanese have had an observation squadron in the waters off Labuan, British Borneo, where they took the same advantage of British neutrality as Rojestsvensky did of French neutrality at Madagascar and this squadron is believed to have been summoned by Japanese scouts to remain in touch with the Russians until they go north to the Straits of Formosa, where, it is believed here, a battle will occur.

Considering the vital nature of the issue, the admiralty is inclined to think that Admiral Togo will not dare to send ships to Vladivostok or leave vessels behind him to cope with the Russian vessels at that port and that the Japanese coast and the transport fleet will practically have to shift for themselves, until the naval battle is fought. The principal coast cities of Japan are well protected by fortifications, and the Russian cruisers at Vladivostok not being heavily armored could not attack them, but have could be created among the Japanese transports and commercial ships.

So far as ascertainable, Rojestsvensky has no intention of putting into Saigon, the entrance to that port being narrow, but it is believed he will remain in the open sea.

TO CLEAN SHIPS.

It is learned that the Russian ships have on board patent appliances consisting of steel brushes attached to a sort of bellyband, which, running under the vessel, can be used quite effectively to clean the bottom. The speed of warships in this way, it is calculated, can be increased at least a knot.

The admiralty is greatly gratified at the speed developed by the squadron while steaming across the Indian Ocean, which is officially figured at nine instead of eight knots, as the ships made a detour northward in the direction of Jibuti in order to create the initial impression that they intended to join Admiral Nebogatoff's division. Naval men here consider that the speed attained with such a heterogeneous squadron, is a remarkable feat and a shining testimonial to Rojestsvensky's capacity.

NEW GUNS.

The admiralty is not harboring any delusions on the score of the opinions of foreign experts based upon the theory that Togo's ships are armed with guns which were worn out at Port Arthur, as the officials here know that there have been heavy shipments of guns from England during the past few months.

ADVANCE GUARD.

LONDON, April 11.—A telegram from Singapore reports that four supposed colliers passed there going east, April 10. These are presumed in shipping circles to be the advance guard of the sixteen Hamburg-American line steamers chartered to act as supply ships to the Russian Second Pacific Squadron.

CLOSED PORT.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Minister Griscom at Tokio has cabled the State Department that he has been advised of the closing of Keiung to foreign ships until further notice. Keiung is a port on the north end of the island of Formosa. It is believed here that the action of the Japanese government in closing Keiung indicates that this port will be used by Admiral Togo as a base for his fleet.

Counsel for Mr. Morse declared that the stockholders had not been consulted as to the adoption of the mutualization plan, and that therefore he questioned the legality of the plan.

This ended the argument of counsel, and Judge Maddox gave them until Friday to file briefs. In the meantime he gave no decision.

TERRIBLY BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION.

Gilbert Canfield Was Being Roasted Alive When He Was Saved By a Woman.

NEWARK, April 11.—Terribly burned by the explosion of a gasoline burner, which he was using in scraping the varnish off the interior of a house, Gilbert Canfield is lying in a critical condition and little hope is held out for his recovery. He is employed at the home of Mrs. Mollie Gibbons, who lives just out of town, in doing odd work and as the interior was to be repainted he set to work to scrape the varnish in one of the rooms.

He was using one of the burners, such as painters use to moisten the varnish, and was in a stooping position when the thing suddenly exploded. The pieces struck him in the stomach, but did not go with sufficient force to go through him. The flame, however, swept up into his face and his throat and chin were burned to a crisp, the skin hanging in shreds. The heat was so intense that it melted the glasses in his spectacles.

His clothes caught on fire and with a scream he ran out of the house in an endeavor to get to a watering trough where he could throw himself in, but without being able to see he stumbled and fell and rolled about on the ground. Mrs. Gibbons ran out to him with a blanket and finally succeeded in putting out the fire.

He was taken into the house and Dr. Emerson summoned, who found that the chief injuries lay about his face and throat. His entire face is peeled and he may lose his eyesight, besides which his throat is so burned that it is questionable whether it will probably heal or not.

THIS BOY SKINS CATS ALIVE.

Entire Family Refuse to Sleep While Arthur Rowe Roams About the House.

Arthur Rowe is an exceedingly bad boy according not only to his father but also according to his mother's word also. Arthur is under arrest at the city prison on a charge of disturbing the peace, preferred by his father, George Rowe, who resides at 1558 Eleventh avenue.

While the boy is in jail on a charge of disturbing the peace the events in his young and uncurbed life leading up to this condition are full of almost complete degeneracy, if the words of his parents are to be taken.

Arthur, according to the tales which have been told to Police Judge Smith, takes a delight in skinning cats alive, throwing rocks through the windows of his own home and the home of other people at night, threatening to kill his sisters and brothers with a hatchet and also threatening to kill his mother. In pursuance of these threats he has arisen in the night, obtained a cleaver or an ax and made his way to the bedrooms of the various members of the family. He has thus far been intercepted in his contemplated bloody work, but the nerves of the entire family are so unstrung that they were compelled to put the boy in jail for one night's rest.

When the case came up in the Police Court this morning his mother was in court.

The boy pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace and the mother supplemented his remarks by stating that her offspring had for the last several days been a terror to herself and others and that of late he had been threatening to kill all the members of the family.

The case was too much for Police Judge Smith to pass on immediately and he continued the passing of sentence until tomorrow morning, at which time the father will be in court to give testimony.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Dr. H. E. Moorehouse, corresponding secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society in this city, today made the following announcement: "Mr. John D. Rockefeller has just given $100,000 to the American Baptist Home Mission Society of this city, which makes a total of more than $1,000,000 that the society has received from him during the last twenty years."

Mr. Moorehouse said that this gift was separate from the two gifts made by Mr. Rockefeller to the American Baptist Missionary Union, recently announced in Boston.

NEW FEATURE TO EQUITABLE CASE

NEW YORK, April 11.—A new feature was added to the Equitable Life Assurance Society litigation today when a stockholder, Charles W. Morse, organizer of the American Ice Company, obtained permission to intervene in the suit brought by Franklin B. Lord to restrain the putting into effect of the mutualization plan agreed upon by the society's directors.

Mr. Undermyer, representing Vice-President James Hyde, gave notice that he would present a formal petition of intervention.

GETTING AT BOTTOM OF FRENCH CONSPIRACY.

Captain in the Army Has Been Arrested For Complicity in Supposed Military Plot.

PARIS, April 11.—Captain Voipert, of the Eleventh Infantry, has been arrested on the charge of complicity in the supposed military plot against the security of the State.

It was announced from Paris, April 5, that 8,000 army cartridges had been discovered in the house of a man named Meyer in the suburbs of Paris and that a supply of rifles was found later.

PRAYS THAT PRESIDENT MAY BE DELIVERED FROM THE LION AND BEAR.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 11.—Chaplain Bradford devoted almost his entire opening prayer in the house today to a supplication for the safety of President Roosevelt, now on his hunting trip through the west and southwest. He drew a picture of the dangers into which the President was going and prayed for his safe return. In his prayer the chaplain asked that whether the "monsters of the mountains" flee from the President from fear or fly at him in fury he may find himself "protected by the shield of the Almighty so that upon his return to his home in peace and safety like 'The Servant David of old he can testify to the people that the Lord delivered him out of the paw of the lion and out of the paw of the bear and let all the people praise thee.'"

CHIEF HODGKINS WANTS SURE CURE FOR LAZINESS.

Chief of Police Hodgkins is in want of three bottles of anti-toxin, an alleged cure for laziness, reported to have been discovered by a New York physician.

On several occasions he has notified police headquarters of his arrival on the beat after all other men had reported and were patrolling their beat.

The desire of the Chief in this respect was made known this morning through the suspension of Policeman Ernest, who has been holding down a beat in East Oakland.

"If it is true as reported," said Chief Hodgkins this morning, "in relative to a cure for laziness, I would like to have three bottles of the discovery."

The Patrolman was suspended for having reported on for duty just fourteen minutes late last night. According to his superiors in office Ernest has been very negligent about reporting onto his beat the proper time.

It may be explained one drop of the new elixir made a policeman in New York make eighteen arrests in less than a half-an-hour.

MERCHANT LOCKED IN STORE WHILE THIEF DOES HIS WORK.

J. C. Talbot, proprietor of a paint store at 1160 East Fourteenth street, reported to the police today that he had been made the victim of a clever plot, the result of which he was robbed of $2.

The robber then walked to the till, emptied the drawers of $9 in assorted coins and departed without releasing the imprisoned proprietor.

A stranger entered his place of business in the afternoon and requested Talbot to go into the back room to get a peculiar pattern of wall paper, he wished. The proprietor did as he was bidden and the minute he was in the back room the stranger quickly turned the key in the lock and imprisoned the proprietor.

Talbot bided his time, however, and when he heard another customer enter he made good use of his lungs and was released.

ELECTED MAYOR OF FRESNO

GREAT HONOR GAINED BY W. PARKER LYON LATE OF OAKLAND.

W. Parker Lyon, who was yesterday elected Mayor of Fresno, is well known in this city, having formerly been associated with his father, J. L. Lyon, in the furniture business in this city.

He ran on a platform of "no puffs, no notices and has had to rely on his personal friends for all support. He ran independent, the Republicans and the Democrats having united against him. His campaign slogan was "In the interests of the business man," and the business men of Fresno rallied to his support and elected him, giving him a plurality of over 300 votes.

Mr. Lyon's campaign was rather unique in the history of Fresno. In the first place, although Mr. Lyon has lived in Fresno for the past thirteen years, he has never before dabbled in politics. Then, too, he has had the opposition of the two newspapers of Fresno. He was compelled to pay for all advertising.

The present Mayor, Stephens, has had a very successful administration, and it was not thought that any candidate could win out over him.

Two weeks ago J. L. Lyon, father of the Mayor-elect, went to Fresno to help his son in the campaign.

The Lyon family are well known in this city. E. C. Lyon, a brother of W. Parker Lyon, having sold his furniture business in this city but two years ago, leaving for Los Angeles, where he is now successfully engaged in the same line of business.

Another brother, Harvey B. Lyon, is now a senator at the State University.

NEW RACING CRAFT IS LAUNCHED.

UNIQUE YACHT "PERHAPS," DESIGNED BY HARRY BORCHERT AND BUILT BY JACK SHERRY. VIEW SHOWS YACHT IN ESTUARY OFF CALIFORNIA YACHT CLUB HEADQUARTERS.

Built along low, long, rakish and original lines, the yacht "Perhaps," designed by Harry Borchert, steward of the Receiving Hospital, and Jack Sherry, a patrolman on the Oakland police force, now lies in the stream off the California Yacht Club headquarters on the Alameda shore of the estuary, awaiting the opening of the season, when it is anticipated, she will win races and fame for the designer and builder.

is a sort of an experiment, is flat-bottomed and nearly all of her lies out of the water. Although the "Perhaps" is about forty-five feet long, over half of her is out of the water, this being to enable Policemans Sherry to enter her in races with a good time allowance.

Beneath the "Perhaps" is a six-foot fin, which, so it is believed, will allow her to be turned in the water like a board on a pivot. If the expectations are realized the "Perhaps" will save a great deal of time in tacking.

The "Perhaps" is provided with a forty-five-foot boom, thus allowing her a great spread of canvas. A number of yachtsmen and sea-dogs have called at the California Yacht Club to see the workmanship and racing ability of the rakish craft. Both designer and builder are confident that the "Perhaps" will prove a revelation to yachtsmen and that several cups offered this season will go to her.

It has taken months to build the "Perhaps," the work being done in an old barn. Sunday the boat was removed from its house, but before it could be taken to the estuary a whole side of the building was removed, the builders when they selected the house forgetting that the lines of the yacht would be too great to allow passage through the door.

ACCUSED EX-SENATORS PIERSON MUST STAND TRIAL.

French, Emmons and Wright Ordered to Appear in Court to Have Hearing Set.

SACRAMENTO, April 11.—Judge Hart of the Superior Court today rendered his opinion upon the motions made by the attorneys of Frank French, E. J. Emmons and Eli Wright, alleged hoodling State Senators, who were expelled from the upper house of the Legislature and who were indicted for bribery by the Grand Jury of Sacramento County.

The lawyers made many technical points in trying to free their clients, but these were all brushed aside by the decision of Judge Hart, and the accused men will have to go to trial in the Superior Court of this county.

In fact, they have been ordered by the court to appear next Saturday, at which time the dates for their trials will be fixed.

Among other things, the lawyers for the accused men contended that the Grand Jury which had indicted them had not been legally drawn.

SAYS SHE LEFT $40,000 IN OAKLAND BANK.

Woman Who Died in a Two Room Hut Declares She Had a Fortune.

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., April 11.—Mrs. Adeline Spears, wife of a day laborer, died here today in a two-room hut in which she lived with her husband. Just before death she called for a lawyer and made a will leaving to her husband $40,000 which she declared she had on deposit in a bank at Oakland, Cal.

The police are inclined to the belief that the men are mistaken, although they are positive in their assertions.

LEFT STEAMER.

PORTLAND, Or., April 11.—The officers and crew of the steamer Redondo, which has arrived here from San Francisco, believe that Pietro Torturici, who is suspected of being the murderer of Biaggio Vilardo, escaped from San Francisco on the Redondo and left the steamer at Eureka.

The Redondo cleared from San Francisco the second day after the murder. She carried twenty-two second class passengers, among whom Torturici is suspected of having been. When the boat reached Eureka, the first stop outside of San Francisco, one steerage passenger instead of going aft to the gang-plank, stepped quickly out of the fore-castle, and throwing a bundle wrapped in newspapers ashore, climbed the high railing and leaped to the dock, a distance of several feet. He then made his way as rapidly as possible to the further side of the wharf, and climbed over a fence and disappeared.

The man is described by them as a man of middle size, rather heavy and dark. What name he sailed under could not be ascertained.

WILL OFFER REWARD.

Chief of Police Dihan today sent a request to Governor Pardee that he offer a reward for the apprehension of the murderer. It is expected that the Governor will offer a reward of $500. To this will be added $250 which Chief Dihan will offer, and it is expected that the respectable element of the Italian colony will increase the reward to $1,000. This amount would be a big temptation to the poorer class to furnish information regarding the fugitive and would, in a measure, offset the fear the Italians feel of the black hand of the "Naps," or Mafia. It is expected that Governor Pardee will offer a reward today and circulars will immediately be scattered broadcast announcing the fact.

TORTURICI SEEN.

One reason the police have for thinking that the fugitive may still be in the city is that two Italians, declare they saw him Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

These men are Louis Cuneo and Joseph Bacigalupi. They say they were standing in front of the Owl saloon at 311 Montgomery avenue Friday afternoon when Torturici passed. They spoke to him but he paid no attention to the salutation. He appeared careless and dejected, they say.

The police are inclined to the belief that the men are mistaken, although they are positive in their assertions.

WILL OFFER REWARD.

Chief of Police Dihan today sent a request to Governor Pardee that he offer a reward for the apprehension of the murderer. It is expected that the Governor will offer a reward of $500. To this will be added $250 which Chief Dihan will offer, and it is expected that the respectable element of the Italian colony will increase the reward to $1,000. This amount would be a big temptation to the poorer class to furnish information regarding the fugitive and would, in a measure, offset the fear the Italians feel of the black hand of the "Naps," or Mafia. It is expected that Governor Pardee will offer a reward today and circulars will immediately be scattered broadcast announcing the fact.

TORTURICI SEEN.

One reason the police have for thinking that the fugitive may still be in the city is that two Italians, declare they saw him Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

These men are Louis Cuneo and Joseph Bacigalupi. They say they were standing in front of the Owl saloon at 311 Montgomery avenue Friday afternoon when Torturici passed. They spoke to him but he paid no attention to the salutation. He appeared careless and dejected, they say.

The police are inclined to the belief that the men are mistaken, although they are positive in their assertions.

LEFT STEAMER.

PORTLAND, Or., April 11.—The officers and crew of the steamer Redondo, which has arrived here from San Francisco, believe that Pietro Torturici, who is suspected of being the murderer of Biaggio Vilardo, escaped from San Francisco on the Redondo and left the steamer at Eureka.

The Redondo cleared from San Francisco the second day after the murder. She carried twenty-two second class passengers, among whom Torturici is suspected of having been. When the boat reached Eureka, the first stop outside of San Francisco, one steerage passenger instead of going aft to the gang-plank, stepped quickly out of the fore-castle, and throwing a bundle wrapped in newspapers ashore, climbed the high railing and leaped to the dock, a distance of several feet. He then made his way as rapidly as possible to the further side of the wharf, and climbed over a fence and disappeared.

The man is described by them as a man of middle size, rather heavy and dark. What name he sailed under could not be ascertained.

ACCUSED EX-SENATORS PIERSON FIRED ON THE MOB

He Will Probably Be Named Building Inspector of City. Riots at Madrid is Much More Serious Than Reported.

The candidates for the office of Building Inspector, with a salary of $175 a month, are numerous but at the present time the indications favor Joseph Pierson, a contractor of thirty years' experience in this city. He is favored by a majority of the City Council, including Councilman William Rausch, who fathered the new ordinance creating the office. It is thought that the Board of Works, which will have the appointment, will endorse Pierson.

The probable appointee is 57 years of age and has been in this city for a third of a century. He is qualified by many years of actual experience to fill the position which will require much technical knowledge.

Several candidates are in the field but from the present outlook of things Pierson will land the plum.

The feeling has increased until the populace now is showing a menacing attitude against the government.

JUDGE HALL IS APPOINTED BY THE GOVERNOR.

Named For a Position in District Court of Appeals—Other Appointees on the List.

The appointment of the nine judges of the new District Court of Appeals has been announced by Governor Purdie, and to Oakland falls the honor of having one of her leading legal lights chosen for one of the nine.

The new court is an intermediary between the Superior Court and the State Supreme Court, and the State has been divided into three districts, in each of which three judges have been appointed. In the First District, which includes Alameda county, the appointees are Ralph C. Harrison and J. A. Cooper, who are at present Commissioners of the Superior Court, and Judge S. P. Hall, who is a Judge of the Superior Court of Alameda county.

In the Second or Southern District the new judges appointed today are: Wharton A. Gray of Visalia and George H. Smith of Los Angeles, at present Superior Court Commissioners, and M. T. Allen, at present Superior Court Judge of Los Angeles.

In the Third or Northern District the Appellate Judges are: N. P. Chipman of Red Cloud, E. J. Pucklen of Solano, at present Judge of the Superior Court of this county, and C. E. McLaughlin, Superior Court Judge of Plumas county.

Of the newly appointed Judges Cooper, Smith and McLaughlin are Democrats.

The Judges of each district will meet and perfect the organization of their courts at as early a date as is possible.

The appointment of the minor officials and employees of the court will be made by the Judges and will follow as soon as organization has been perfected.

Each District Court of Appeals will have jurisdiction over the territory in its own district. The First District includes the counties of the central portion of the State, the Second District those in the southern end and the Third District those counties in the northern end of the State.

Judge Hall stated last night that he would place his resignation as Judge of the Superior Court of Alameda county in the hands of the Governor at once, and will make preparations to assume the duties of his new position.

The object of the new tribunal is to relieve the Supreme Court of the load of many cases now on its docket and to grant speedy trials to those cases which have been long delayed by the fact that the Supreme Court had no time in which to attend to them.

The appointment of the nine Judges has been looked forward to for some weeks, and many of the Judges of the Superior Courts of the various counties have been applicants for the new positions. The resignations consequent upon the appointments will cause vacancies in the judgments of the different Superior Courts, which will have to be filled by the Governor. The Judges of the District Court of Appeals will hold their offices until their successors are elected, at that time all the courts will be reorganized.

PRESIDENT READY FOR MOUNTAIN RUN.

Will Make the Start For the Rockies Next Friday Evening—Getting Train Ready.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 11.—President Roosevelt's special train is scheduled to start from this city on its run into the Rocky Mountains over the Colorado Midland Railroad at 9:30 o'clock Friday night.

Owing to heavy snows in the vicinity of Redstone, the destination has been changed to New Castle, twelve miles west of Glenwood, from which point the party will start for camp. In the pilot train, which will be run five minutes ahead of the special, will be General Superintendent J. C. Vining's private car Number 99, and an accommodation coach for newspaper correspondents. In Mr. Vining's car will be Mr. Vining, W. J. Slacks, superintendent of machinery; C. H. Speers, general passenger agent and F. H. Emmons, advertising agent.

Attached to the President's train will be the private car of General Manager G. W. Vallary, of the Midland, in which will be Mr. Vallary and Traffic Manager H. C. Bush. One of the biggest engines on the Midland will pull the train.

On the pilot will be an enormous shield, made of American flags with red, white and blue streamers stretched from the shield to the boiler head. In each window of the engine cab will be a picture of President Roosevelt, while the words "Our President" will be painted in large letters on each side of the tender. Small American flags, instead of the white flags usually used on specials, will be attached to the engine, and the rear of the train.

By special request the President's car will be at the end of the train. The only official of the Midland to travel in the President's car will be Assistant Superintendent M. L. Phelps, who will have general supervision until it reaches its destination. Traveling Engineer Andrews and a machinist will ride in the engine to guard against accidents.

No attempt will be made at fast time, but the special will have right of way over the road. Every train to be passed will be sidetracked at least twenty minutes before the special is due.

KEEPS DRINK, BUT LOSES HIS TEETH

Bernard White, a saloon keeper, whose place of business is at 462 Eighth street, today swore out a warrant for the arrest of James Flynn, a customer, who is alleged to have smashed his host in the mouth with a beer bottle. The result of the blow was to deprive White of several teeth and to lacerate the flesh around the mouth.

Flynn asked for a free drink and was refused.

STEAMER AGROUND.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The Red Star line steamer Finland, which arrived outside the bar from Antwerp today, went aground while coming up through the main ship channel. It is believed she will float without trouble at high water.

WANT THE SULTAN TO PAY

GERMANY WOULD LIKE HIM TO MAKE GOOD HIS DEBTS.

BERLIN, April 11.—The German Government continues to lay before the Sultan of Morocco the advantages of requesting the powers to agree among themselves by an international conference on the things they would like him to do.

They include acting on the suggestion for the systematic payment of the foreign debts, bringing about an adjustment of the tariffs and taking steps to properly police the country. Although no official confirmation is obtainable at the Foreign Office, it is understood that strong expectations are held there that the Sultan will accept the idea of an international conference. What is said officially is that Germany would accept such an invitation as offering the best way for a settlement of the difference in views between France and Germany.

WOULD LIKE TO HAVE DISARMAMENT.

PARIS, April 11.—Baron D'Estournelles de Constant, the former deputy and president of the group favoring international arbitration, today made his debut in the Senate, in a speech favoring military and naval disarmament by the states of Europe by a proportionate reduction of their forces similar to the disarming of Chile and Argentina.

SAYS HE WASN'T DRUNK.

Thomas Kelley was before Police Judge Samuels this morning to answer for a charge of over indulgence. He said he was not drunk and demanded a jury trial. His face was one mass of discolorations and indicated hard contact with mother earth or some one's big fist. Judge Samuels set the case for hearing for April 5.

BALLOT MACHINES SCORE A BIG SUCCESS.

Worked Like Clocks Yesterday at Berkeley, Bakersfield and San Rafael.

BERKELEY, April 11.—For the first time in the history of Alameda county an election was held in this city with voting machines. Twelve United States Standard Voting Machines were used. Nearly 3,500 votes were cast in the twelve precincts. The polls closed at 6 o'clock. In the Third ward four hundred and seventy-four votes were cast on the machine and to show how quickly the results were obtained, the count was completed in three and a half minutes and in five minutes the returns were in the City Clerk's office.

The contest was one of the most exciting in the history of the city. There were two tickets in the field, the Republican ticket and the Non-Partisan ticket.

The vote was nearly as large as that in the last Presidential election. The principal fight was on City Marshal August Vollmer defeated Charles T. Kerns, who has held the office for several years, winning by 1537 majority. The machines were watched with a great deal of interest. Public officials from San Francisco, Vallejo and Oakland were present and showed a great deal of interest. The machines did everything that was asked for them. The ballots were cast faster than the tally clerks could tally the voters' names. Wherever there was any delay in voting, it was because the officers of election could not find the names of the voters fast enough. The average time for voting for sixty votes taken at random was less than a half a minute each. Many of the voters cast their vote in five seconds at the machine. Under the Australian system nearly three minutes were required to cast a ballot. There was a great deal of scratching. The entire returns were in the City Clerk's office from all precincts in thirty-five minutes. The newspapers were out in special editions with tabulated statements inside of an hour and a half.

Throughout the entire city, in every precinct the voters had no difficulty in using the machines and the majority of them scratched their ticket. In the precinct where the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum is situated, several of the blind students voted without difficulty and without assistance. One of them stated that he voted a split ticket easily.

Frank C. Jordan, general agent for the Voting Machine Company, was in attendance all day at the different precincts, boosting the machines and receiving the congratulations of the voters.

AT SAN RAFAEL.

SAN RAFAEL, April 11.—In the municipal election held here today to elect members of the Board of Town Trustees, and the Board of Education, the Citizens' Municipal League won out over the Good Government Club by a large majority. In the town trustee contest, Cochran and Pedrotti of the Municipal League beat Page and Millan of the Good Government Club by 418 votes. Martinelli and Wickman, Municipal League candidates for the board of Education, won out over Dubois and Rodden with 508 votes to spare. The election was held with United States Standard Voting Machines, which had been previously used in the last Presidential election. The voters having voted once before on the machines had no trouble whatever in casting their votes and the results were known in a few minutes after the polls closed.

AT BAKERSFIELD.

BAKERSFIELD, April 11.—The city election here yesterday, Non-Partisan ticket swept the city. The voting machines were used for the first time. The three trustees elected were F. G. Munger, Democrat; George A. Tilton, Union Labor; and Ronald McDonald, Republican. Each candidate elected had been endorsed by agreement by the other two parties. The principal contest was between H. J. Smith, president of the board as now constituted, and Ronald McDonald, the latter winning by 250 majority out of 1208 votes cast. Myron Holmes and W. S. Allen were chosen members of the Board of Education. The voting machines were used everywhere. C. E. Jordan, brother of Frank C. Jordan, Clerk of the Supreme Court, was at the different polling places during the day watching the election and giving necessary instructions. The voters experienced no difficulty whatever in operating the machines, and the result of the election was known inside of twenty minutes.

WANT CHANGES IN PLANS FOR SCHOOL.

Committee of Labor Council Desires New Wording.

Alleged imperfections in the specifications for the proposed Market street schoolhouse have been discovered by the executive committee of the Central Labor Council.

A report on the matter was made at the meeting of the Council last night, and the committee was instructed to continue its investigations.

It is said that the wording of the specifications is not definite enough, and there are many loopholes which would permit a dishonest contractor to violate the spirit of the regulations, while technically following the directions.

President C. W. Petty of the Council was instructed to convey the information to City Superintendent of Schools McClymonds.

The contract for the construction of the building is to be let soon.

UNFAIR BROOMS.

Unfair brooms were the subject of much discussion at last night's meeting. The executive committee exhibited several styles of brooms which are sold in the stores here.

It was stated that a broom bearing the label "Manufactured by the Union Broom Company of Chicago, Ill." is really made at the Illinois State Prison at Joliet.

Specimens of Chinese-made brooms and those made at the Home for the Blind and at union shops were also shown. The Chinese made brooms were found to be in workmanship and quality of straw, and the union made the best in quality and next best in workmanship, as the convict brooms were the best made.

NOMINATIONS.

The first nomination of officers for the next year was held last night. There will be the second nomination next Monday and the election is to be held on April 24.

AMUSEMENTS.

Progress is being made in the matter of establishing a library in the amusement hall of the building where the Council makes its headquarters. Several donations of books and magazines were received and promises obtained for more. A complete set of the reports of the work of the Industrial Commission has been presented by a Congressman.

PARTIAL REPORT.

A partial report was received from the committee on the celebration of Labor Day. Another meeting of the committee is to be held next Friday evening to decide fully on what recommendation it will make to the Council for the exercises.

TEN NEW MEMBERS.

Local 55 of the Laundry Workers' Union met at California Hall last night and initiated ten candidates for membership. Five more applications were considered and acted upon favorably.

A new set of by-laws for the Pacific Coast Council of Laundry Workers was discussed and approved. The latter rules arrange for an extension of the scope of the Council by permitting voting by proxy.

This will allow distant cities such as Portland and Seattle to be represented at the semi-annual meetings of the Council. These are held in the different cities in rotation, the next to be at Stockton.

ASSISTANT.

It was decided to employ an assistant business agent, as the membership of the union is rapidly increasing and the business becoming too great for one man to take care of. Baptiste Aroutset was elected to the position.

The committee on arrangements, was ill and unable to attend the meeting.

LECTURES.

A delegation of two from the District Council of Carpenters was at the meeting and announced that a course of lectures would soon be given under the auspices of that body on unionism and kindred subjects. Men prominent in union circles are to deliver the talks, to which the local men are invited.

CHILDREN AFFECTED

By Mother's Food and Drink.

Many babies have been launched into life with constitutions weakened by disease taken in with their mother's milk. Mothers cannot be too careful as to the food they use while nursing their babies. The experience of a Kansas City mother is a case in point:

"I was a great coffee drinker from a child, and thought I could not get a meal without it. But I found at last it was doing me harm. For years I had been troubled with dizziness, heart, to which was added two years ago, a chronic sour stomach. The baby was born 7 months ago, and almost from the beginning, it, too, suffered from sour stomach. She was taking it from me!

"In my distress I consulted a friend of more experience than mine, and she told me to quit coffee, that coffee did not make good milk. I have since ascertained that it really dries up the milk."

"So, I quit coffee, and tried tea and at last cocoa. But they did not agree with me. Then I turned to Postum Coffee with the happiest results. It proved to be the very thing I needed. It not only agreed perfectly with me and myself, but it increased the flow of my milk. My husband then quit coffee and used Postum, quickly got well of the dyspepsia with which he had been troubled. I no longer suffer from the dizziness, blind spells, pain in my heart or sour stomach. Postum has cured them."

"Now we all drink Postum from my husband to my seven months old baby. It has proved to be the best hot drink we have ever used. We would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever drank." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Michigan.

There is a reason. Get the Little Book "The Road to Wellville" in each package.

WIFE SAW BLOOD ON HER HUSBAND'S HANDS

Mrs. Torturici Has Made a Confession to the San Francisco Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The police of Eureka are reported to have discovered that the man suspected of being Torturici, who reached that place on the steamer Iaquia, gave the name of Pietro Cataldi. He is said to have acted queerly during the trip, apparently wanting it to appear that he was not acquainted with the English language. His description, as given by Captain Jorgensen of the Iaquia, agrees closely with that of Torturici.

On reaching Eureka he went to the Swiss-Italian Hotel, and informed the proprietor that he desired to go to Korb, where he had a brother working in a lumber camp. It was nearly time for the departure of the train, so the hotel man took him to the station and saw him purchase a ticket for Korb.

It is to this place that Detective Gibson will go, and he is confident that the suspect will be caught. Mrs. Torturici has admitted to the detectives that on last Wednesday evening she heard her husband and Villard quarrel. Then, she declared, she ran out of the house. Later on in her statement she said:

"There was blood upon my husband's hands. There was blood in a basin in which I had cooked tomatoes, that night. On the floor, too, there was blood. My husband had blood on his clothes. But I did not see him kill Villard, though I know he did."

Rosa Torturici is the cause of this bloody deed. Whether Villard was done to death through the agency of a deadly secret society—"Mafia," "Black Hand," "Naps" or whatever you chance to call it—the woman played a part. Her husband killed Villard with a cleaver, and it does not matter whether the seeming provocation was vengeance or jealousy. The woman is implicated.

BUDGET IS VERY LARGE

Chamberlain Tells Colleagues About Cost of Government.

LONDON, April 11.—Budget day attracted a large crowd of members of Parliament and visitors to the House of Commons today and when the chancellor of the exchequer, Austen Chamberlain, rose to make his annual statement the House was well filled in all parts.

At the outset Mr. Chamberlain put his hearers in good humor by announcing that the revenue of the year just closed exceeded his estimate by nearly $15,000,000, showing that the trade of the country had turned the corner, and whereas a year ago there was a heavy deficit, there had now been established something more than equilibrium between the revenues and expenditures.

Mr. Chamberlain estimated the expenditures for 1905-6 at $707,160,000 and the revenue on the existing basis of taxation at $720,020,000, leaving a surplus of $12,860,000.

The tax is reduced by four cents from July 1st, the date on which the existing duty expires. There is no reduction in the income tax.

Although 1904 began with a plentiful crop of cotton had revived the Lancashire industries, shipbuilding showed signs of recovery and the iron and steel industries had slightly improved. Nevertheless, while the country was on the path of moderate but steady recovery, it could not be said that 1904-5 has been wholly satisfactory from the viewpoint of commerce and finance. There had been much pauperism and distress.

Turning to the expenditure of 1904-5, Mr. Chamberlain said it had been below the estimates and the actual realized surplus for 1904-5 was $7,000,000. The national debt had been reduced by $37,790,000 and at the close of the year stood at $3,775,360,000.

Dealing with the finances of the new year, Mr. Chamberlain said that the expenditure for 1905-6 at $707,160,000 and the revenue on the existing basis of taxation at $720,020,000, leaving a surplus of $12,860,000.

The surplus at his disposal from last year, Mr. Chamberlain said, was small, but he had no doubt regarding what had the first claim on the country's resources. The first thing to do was to reduce the national debt. He proposed that $5,000,000 should be added to the fixed debt charge to create a sinking fund for the $50,000,000 in treasury bonds falling due in December, and which he proposed to release as new bonds for ten years, with the condition that one-tenth be withdrawn and repaid each year.

Drawn and repaid each year. This disposed of $5,000,000 of the surplus. Incidentally the Chancellor of the Exchequer said he hoped that the first installment of the $15,000,000 of the war contribution promised by the Transvaal would be available in 1906.

In the meanwhile, repayments from the Transvaal on account of railroad work and sales of stores, together with the sinking fund at the government's disposal, would make a total of $11,000,000, and he had not the necessary money. He proposed to take off July 1st the extra duty of four cents proposed on tea last year, which would absorb $7,750,000, to clear away the remainder of the customs warehousing charges, which were a burden on traders without substantially increasing the revenue, and to abolish certain customs duties, leaving $2,110,000 to meet contingencies.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, congratulated Mr. Chamberlain on the cleverness of his statement and his provisions in regard to the national debt. The machinery of the party in this State is generally conceded to be in control of former Governor Odell, who is chairman of the State Committee. Mr. Odell is at present in Europe.

FIRED ON THE REBELS

Bloody Encounter With the Troops of the Sultan.

PARIS, April 11.—A despatch to the Temps from Algiers says it is reported, there that a bloody encounter took place Sunday between the troops of the Sultan of Morocco and the rebels supporting the Pretender. The latter, planning, taking the strategic town of Oudja and the Sultan's forces were driven back and a serious rout was the condition when Lieutenant Mangin, commanding the French frontier forces in that vicinity, opened fire with a battery of artillery checking the rebels advance and permitting the Sultan's forces to retire in order.

AGAINST MORSE

According to an opinion handed down this afternoon by District Attorney Allen at the request of County Auditor Bacon the Board of Supervisors has the power to expend money from the general fund upon the public roads. This opinion raised by Harry N. Morse against letting the contract for work to be known as the Mocho road leading from the town of Livermore into the magnesite district. Morse, through his attorney, D. Kinzel, claims that the money raised by taxation in incorporated cities cannot be used for the building of roads outside them. Judge Allen in his examination of the law expressed in a lengthy document fails to discover anything in the law to sustain such a contention. This very thing has been done in this county for years, he states.

This opinion places the Auditor where he is free to pay the demands for work done on this road, the contract for which was let to W. J. Schmidt of Berkeley by the board this morning, to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

GARRIE TO MOVE

WICHITA, April 11.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who is in jail here, today signed deeds conveying her Topeka property, by private parties at a cost of $7,000 and announced her intention, after serving out her jail sentence, of leaving Kansas and settling in Oklahoma, where she will devote her attention to efforts to have a prohibition clause inserted in the constitution when Oklahoma secures statehood. Mrs. Nation is in prison awaiting decision of appeal to the District Court for joint smashing, for which she was fined $150 and sentenced to thirty days in jail. The property sold was that which the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the State convention last October refused to accept as a gift from Mrs. Nation.

PLATT IS TO CONTROL

Goes in With Black to Capture New York Machine.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The New York Sun which for years has been friendly to Senator T. C. Platt and has supported him in his efforts to lead the Republican party in this State, says today that an offensive and defensive alliance has been entered into between the Senator and Governor Black.

"Senator Platt and ex-Governor Black have had a long and very satisfactory talk at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The meeting between them took place on Wednesday evening. Every effort has been made to keep secret the fact that they met and talked over the Republican situation in the State of New York. The news came out yesterday and William Barnes Jr., chairman of the executive committee on the Republican State Committee, Col. George W. Dunn, ex-chairman of the State Committee, William L. Ward, Republican national committee man for the State, and Representative John Dwight of Dryden are aware that Mr. Platt and Mr. Black have come to a satisfactory understanding."

The Sun further says that Mr. Platt and Mr. Black agreed to enter into an alliance and to invite other leaders throughout the State to join them with the object of contesting the control of the party at the next State Convention.

The machinery of the party in this State is generally conceded to be in control of former Governor Odell, who is chairman of the State Committee. Mr. Odell is at present in Europe.

KILLED IN THE LODGE

LITTLE ROCK, Ap. 11.—While Ebenezer Remy was being initiated by the local lodge Knights of Pythias at Pelzer, Ark., he was shot and instantly killed. Charles Fuller, an officer of the lodge, was officiating at the initiation and it is said used a revolver which in some way had been loaded, although it was supposed to contain blank cartridges. The bullet entered Remy's brain. The lodge broke up in consternation.

CHIEF WARNED
SAN JOSE, April 10.—Chief of Police Carroll has received a letter from a so-called Mafia organization in this city warning him to drop all search for Torturici, the San Francisco murderer, or that an Italian answering the description of Torturici bought a ticket at the broad gauge depot here Saturday night for Kansas City. Torturici, it is declared here, worked in this city on the interurban railroad about a year and a half ago.

THE LAWYERS COULD NOT TALK

ST. PETERSBURG, April 11.—The Pan-Russian congress of attorneys took place today in the hall of the Imperial Economic Society. There were 180 delegates present. The police, however, entered the hall and dispersed the delegates, as the meeting had not been authorized to assemble. Before the police actually interfered the congress adopted resolutions providing for the formation of an association to foster social and professional intercourse and to strive for the political freedom of Russia on the basis of democratic constitutions, and also to combine with other associations having the same aims.

As soon as the resolutions were passed, amid tremendous enthusiasm the president, M. T. Krasnov, announced that the chief of police required the meeting to be dispersed because it had not been sanctioned by the authorities. The delegates refused to leave the hall except under physical force, and the chief of police entered the hall with 200 men. The delegates protested that the order to disperse was verbal, and therefore illegal, and that, moreover, it was contrary to the terms of the imperial rescript of March 8, but the delegates eventually left the building, shouting defiantly, and with the police behind them. Mounted troops were immediately posted as sentries at the entrances to the hall.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The American Smelters Exploration Company, organized and incorporated in New Jersey a few weeks ago, elected a board of directors and other officers today. The standard voting machines are being used for the first time.

RUMOR OF A BATTLE

STABBED BY THE STRIKERS

British Subject and Two Non-Strikers are Murdered.

LODZ, April 11.—James Ratcliffe, a British subject and manager of Posen-aids cotton mill, was stabbed today while returning from a mass celebration to commemorate the end of the strike. His assailant escaped.

Two workmen were found stabbed to death yesterday. It is supposed they were non-strikers and that they were murdered by strikers.

RAILROAD CUTS RATES

CHICAGO, April 11.—One of the most startling moves made by western railroads in freight traffic for a long time was made by the Chicago & Eastern Illinois today when it was announced that that line will absorb the terminal charges across the bridges at St. Louis on all freight carried over its road. This change amounted to 55 per cent, and has hitherto been added to the freight charges to East St. Louis. By the new plan the freight charge to East St. Louis will take the freight across the bridge without the toll to the bridge company.

The result is a direct reduction in rates of 55 per cent. The action of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois was without the consent of competing lines, but it is expected that all the roads leading from Chicago to St. Louis will quickly follow the example of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and absorb the terminal charges of all traffic. It may be however, that there will be a reaction in other lines and, instead of following the action of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the other lines may reduce rates to other competitive points in an effort to drive that line out of its aggressive position on St. Louis business.

Ever since the great war on grain rates last winter from Omaha to New Orleans and to the Atlantic seaboard, there has been much friction between the western trunk lines, which at times has developed into bitterness. It is feared that the movement made today may lead to a general break up in western railroad rates on competing traffic.

GIVES NAMES OF THE INJURED

LONDON, Ap. 11.—Indian Secretary Broderick received a dispatch today from Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Viceroy of India, giving a complete list of the European casualties, resulting from the recent earthquake as far as reported. Dharmapala—Thirteen dead and two seriously injured. Kanarra—Seven dead and one seriously injured. The Panipur list, the Viceroy adds, is probably incomplete. European casualties are also reported to have occurred at Kulupunjab.

PRINTERS ORGANIZE.
KANSAS CITY, April 10.—The employing printers' association of the Southwest was organized here today at a special meeting called by the Typothetae of Kansas City and St. Louis, and attended by 200 delegates from Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Mississippi. The headquarters will be at St. Louis. The following officers were elected: E. S. Hart, St. Louis, president; S. J. Harbaugh, St. Louis, secretary; Franklin Hudson, Kansas City, treasurer. An almost unanimous sentiment was shown among the delegates against entering in the future into any further contracts with organized labor, and also against the 8-hour day. Definite action on these questions will be taken before the meeting adjourns. The head officers and executive committee of the United Typothetae of America were present.

ONE LOOK AT FACE OF DEAD

Wife of Murderer Denounces Police While at Morgue.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Captain Burnett decided this afternoon to take Mrs. Torturici to view the body of the dead man before it was removed from the Morgue.

As she entered the room where the mangled corpse lay she put her arm over her eyes.

She glanced once at the body and then took several steps backward.

Then she turned upon the policemen who held her and denounced them.

"You are not men," she exclaimed. "Men would not make a woman look upon the face of the dead."

Not another word would she say, however, and she was led back to her cell.

The news of the world telegraphed direct into THE TRIBUNE office by the Associated Press. TRIBUNE readers get the news 14 hours ahead of the morning papers.

Your Nerves

Are the life, the vitality, the energy of your body.

It is the nerves that cause the heart to pulsate, the lungs to inhale the oxygen, the brain to direct the motion of every organ of the body, the stomach to digest food, the liver to secrete the bile, the kidneys to filter the blood, and the bowels to carry off the waste.

When the nerves of the stomach become weakened or exhausted, indigestion, constipation and inflammation result, because the stomach is inactive. This is true of all the organs of the body, and proves that to cure disease you must strengthen the nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is the greatest specific for nerves, and in bringing them back to health never fails to cure all cases of Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Neuritis, Headache, Spasms, Paralysis, Muscular Twitchings, St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy, Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles.

For two years Mrs. J. A. Grocer, of Decatur, Ga., has been suffering from St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy, Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles, and heart affections. Six bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine cured her.

G. W. ARCHBOLD, Grocer, Decatur, Ga.

GOOD SHOW AT YE LIBERTY

"RICHELIEU" PLEASE CROWDED HOUSE—COSTUMES ARE PERFECT.

The days of Louis XIII of France were vividly portrayed on the stage of the Liberty Theater last evening, and the play, that of "Richelieu," which has no humorous situations and is full of lefty climaxes, was well presented by the stock company, headed by John Gilmore and Adele Block.

The management have paid all due attention to the stage setting and costumes, and the varied and beautiful costumes of the men made a pleasing background for the play. The costumes of Adele Block, whose gown was superb.

Every actor fitted his part and the production is one which will please the lover of those old French romances in which the long trunk hose and the sword play the principal parts. It is very interesting and a most delightful way in which to spend the evening.

WILL ENTERTAIN RAILWAY MEN

The convention of the International Railway Conductors will be held this year in Portland, beginning May 20. On May 21, in all probability, a special train containing delegates to the convention and their wives will arrive in Oakland from the South. This train will be known as the Georgia Special and will bring delegates from Georgia and other southern States, coming by way of Los Angeles. The train will be met at the station in Oakland, and during the stay in this city it is contemplated entertaining the delegates and their wives in Oakland and suburbs. The directors of the Board of Trade, in conference with several of the local railway conductors, have voted to cooperate in said entertainment. Probably no class of men have similar opportunities to host a city or section of the country than the railway conductors.

It is expected that other associations in the country will enroute and at least give these visitors the "All Day for a Dollar" excursion, including lunch.

PLAN FOR COUNTY'S EXHIBIT AT FAIR. Commissioners Make an Appeal to All of the Manufacturers.

Commissioners Gier, Welby and Walker, in charge of Alameda county's exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, are busily engaged in the work of preparation. They are determined that this county shall be represented in no uncertain fashion at the great fair in Portland, beginning June 1. Their best energies are being directed to accomplish the task imposed upon them.

Without the backing of their fellow citizens, however, the commissioners can do only that which three energetic citizens are capable of doing.

Their wish is to have the manufacturing industries of Alameda county fully represented at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, therefore they ask that samples of county manufactures be immediately prepared and sent to them. This

THEATRICAL TRUST IS IN COMPLETE CONTROL

Stars Must Obey Command of Monopoly Or They Cannot Play in Leading Theaters.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The charge that half a dozen men in this city and Philadelphia control every first class theater in the country, dictate to managers where their stars shall appear, or whether they shall appear at all, and arbitrarily demand and nearly always receive a large percentage of the profits from every play produced in those theaters, has been made by witnesses during the progress of the trial of the suit of David Belasco, the playwright, against Klaw & Erlanger, theatrical agents, still in progress.

Belasco's purpose in the suit is to re-establish his contention that Klaw & Erlanger entered into a secret partnership with him in regard to the starring of David Warfield in "The Auctioneer." The secret agreement was made in consideration of Klaw & Erlanger consenting to book the play at first-class theaters.

second time from a private sanatorium here and after visiting lawyers to obtain advice concerning a suit for separation against her husband, has disappeared.

So far as can be learned no one knows where the woman is. She is believed to be wandering about the streets. She had 20 cents when she called on her lawyers today.

Mrs. Wilmerding was committed to the Bloomingdale Asylum once, but was liberated from there through a legal action taken by her friends. Her escape was effected by leaving a dummy in her bed and then slipping out of the sanatorium. She admitted in court once during an investigation of her case that she smoked forty cigarettes daily and also drank. She has been on the stage.

CAPITOLA, April 11.—The last day of the Young Women's Christian Association conference was a very busy one. The usual meetings were held in the morning and the platform address was delivered by Miss Bertha Conde. Her subject was "What Will You Do With Christ?"

At the student conference Miss Ruth Beckwith of Pomona College presented the report of the Bible study committee, and Miss Helen Salisbury of Stanford University spoke for the committee on religious meetings. At the city conference a paper by Miss Neva Chapell of Los Angeles was read on the formation of clubs as a means of awakening interest in association work.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson spoke of the fine buildings which, recently have been erected for the Milwaukee, Elgin, Minneapolis and Detroit associations. The biennial convention will be held this month in the Detroit building, to the erection of which the Whitney family of that city have given $21,000.

At the farewell dinner last night nearly two hundred women gathered around a table arranged in a hollow square, with the speakers at one end. A profusion of ferns and California poppies were scattered through the large dining-room and on the tables.

The final meeting last evening was a consecration service, led by Miss Bertha Conde. The delegates left for their homes this morning.

OAKLAND MAN AFTER DAMAGES

DECLARES HE WAS BADLY TREATED BY PICKLE WORKS MANAGER.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Fredrick L. Mathes, manager of the Pacific Vinegar and Pickle Works, has been made the defendant in a suit for $5000 damages for false imprisonment instituted against him by G. J. Irwin, who is connected with the St. John Hospital in Oakland.

Irwin says that on March 3 he went to Mathes' offices at 122 Davis street and, in line with his business, presented Mathes with a bill for services rendered him at the St. John Hospital. The size of the bill, though not unreasonable, caused Mathes to fly into a rage, says Irwin, and he, observing that Mathes had lost his temper, decided it was best to leave the office.

Irwin started to go, he says, but Mathes snatched the bill from his hands, tore it up and threw it on the floor and then, his anger still unsatisfied, grasped the plaintiff by the throat and hurled him into a chair. Many times, the plaintiff says, he sought to escape, but each time Mathes got a strangle hold on him and put him back into the chair without ceremony. For three hours this kept up, Irwin says, Mathes at last firing of abusing him, called a policeman and had him arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace.

This action was unwarranted, says Irwin, and Judge Canabals so held when the case came before him and promptly ordered him discharged from custody. For all of these wrongs Irwin alleges Mathes has committed against him he asks that the defendant be compelled to pay $5000 damages and costs of suit.

SINKS TEETH IN SHOULDER

FIGHTING YOUNG MAN MAKES THINGS LIVELY FOR OFFICER IN ALAMEDA.

ALAMEDA, April 11.—Harry Carr, aged twenty-three, a rover, whose home is in Chelsea, Mass., but who has been living for some time at 2323 Buena Vista avenue, was arrested at 11:45 o'clock last night in Chinatown full of liquor and fight. When brought to the city prison he made a desperate attempt to chew Patrolman Jesse Roger's shoulder. Sinking his teeth into the officer's collar he hung on like a bulldog, and was only shaken off after a struggle.

In his cell young Carr tried to wreck the bedstead and pounded on the iron bars for hours, arousing the neighborhood with his yells. He was completely worn out when he appeared in court this morning. Judge R. B. Tappan sentenced him to nine hours meditation in the local Bastille.

BISHOP SPALDING IS IMPROVING

PEORIA, Ill., April 11.—High mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Cathedral in this city tomorrow in thanksgiving for the improved condition of Bishop Spalding, who is now at Hot Springs. Reports from there received today indicate that the distinguished patient is very much improved. The mass will be held at the request of the local chapter of Knights of Columbus.

HE WAS BITTEN BY A MAD DOG

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—John H. Taussig, a son of Captain Edward D. Taussig, commander of the battleship Massachusetts, and famous as an end rush on the Cornell football team, is in the Pasteur Institute, New York, undergoing treatment for a dog bite. Mr. Taussig was bitten by a pet ferret, which had suddenly gone mad.

GORHAM MAY BE PRESIDENT OF BOARD.

ALAMEDA, April 11.—It is probable since Joseph F. Forrester, the present executive of the Board of Trustees, has declined to accept the honor again that William J. Gorham will be chosen as president of the board for the next two years.

PARIS, April 11.—Captain Volpert, of the Eleventh Infantry, has been arrested on the charge of complicity in the supposed military plot against the security of the State.

It was announced from Paris, April 5, that 8,000 army cartridges had been discovered in the house of a man named Meyer in the suburbs of Paris and that a supply of rifles was found later. The cartridges, it was added, were the result of the recent seizure of 500 uniforms in the residence of Captain Lamour, a retired officer. The authorities at first did not consider the affair serious, and the subsequent opinion was that a conspiracy was being hatched.

FORFEITS $50.

John Cicerone, an Italian, who while in a happy frame of mind, pulled a fire alarm to see if it would go off.

this morning forfeited $50 bail in Police Judge Samuel's Court in preference to standing trial. He was lucky at that for the law provides a very heavy penalty for those who turn in a false alarm.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Troubles—No Family Can Afford To Be Without It.

"I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as one of the very best remedies for bowel troubles," says Mr. J. W. Hanlon, editor of the Despatch, Collins, Georgia. "I make this statement after having used the medicine in my family for several years. I can never without it. No family can afford to be without a bottle of this remedy in the house. It is certain to be needed sooner or later. For sale by Osmond Bros., corner Twelfth and Washington streets and corner Seventh and Broadway.

THE LOST WILL

How many times have we read in fact and fiction of the troubles that were caused by the losing of a will. It had been put away years before—securely of course—but when the hour arrived for it to be opened it could not be found. Then followed months of quarreling, litigation lasting sometimes for years, and quite frequently the estate which was designed to pass into the hands of certain people passed into the hands of others. This is an old, old story. A generation ago there was even some defense for hiding a will in a secret drawer or in a panel closet even for burying it in a tin can beneath the cellar floor. That was before the time of safety deposit vaults. Now there is no excuse for allowing a will or any other paper or article of value to be surrounded with the least possible element of danger.

Four dollars a year is a very small sum of money to pay for all the insurance that can be obtained from the judicious expenditures of tens of thousands of dollars. The safety vaults of the Central Bank cost a fortune—but they are worth every cent that was paid. Each year they doubtless save fortunes to those who take advantage of them. It is your privilege to rent an individual box capable of holding all the valuable papers, heirlooms and such like that the ordinary person possesses. You have an individual key, all the conveniences of a perfectly appointed parlor in which to transact any business you may wish—and all for one dollar per quarter.

The entire Millinery department is now pleasingly complete; Dress Hats, Walking Hats, Misses' Hats, Untrimmed Hats and Shapes—and an infinitude of pretty, up-to-date trimmings.

Children's Millinery

At $4.95—Misses' hat of net and all-over lace; very wide brim of shirring and lace; tucked net top; large satin ribbon rosette and loop. The new, elaborate Sunbo caps are priced.....

$1.50, $1.75 and up to $5.75

The Easter Suit

From the wide variety of styles that are correct it is easy to select a suit that will satisfy you—Our display is now at its best—come before the stock is depleted. If wise bees only gather where there is honey, then, indeed there must be honey of the right kind in our Suit Department, for it is busy all day long.

Very serviceable, stylish suits are priced $16.50, $18.50 and $20.00, while the better grades are priced up to..... $45.00

Silk Party Coats

Stylish beyond criticism, of exquisite quality and in great favor are these coats. They are priced $10.00, $12.50 and up to $35.00. Two good numbers are—

WATCHMAN'S MISHAP.—A peculiar accident happened to Night Watchman Pat Coughlin yesterday. About noon he was coming from his home when he discovered three or four tramps in a box car in the railroad yards. In driving them off they did not go fast enough to suit him and he started to run after them. His foot caught in the rails and threw him heavily, breaking both the bones of his leg just above the ankle.

NOTES.—A delegation of about twenty-five of the Epworth Leaguers drove to Pleasanton Sunday to attend special services held in the Methodist Church of that place.

SENATOR PLATT'S MIND IS CLEARER.

WASHINGTON, Conn., April 11.—The bulletin given out today regarding the condition of Senator O. H. Platt said that the patient's mental condition this morning was better than at any time within the last week, and that his strength was keeping up well, but that the fluid in his chest is increasing. Dr. Ford, however, said that he did not regard the latter symptom as necessarily a serious complication.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT IDORA PARK.

Leona in an open air trapeze act and pulse-stirring heel swing at Idora Park is attracting large crowds every afternoon and evening.

The popular Manager James Milling in furnishing amusement features with out extra charge is winning favor among the patrons of the park. The free theater, where a concert may be heard and moving pictures seen, depicting the operations of bandits holding up a train is especially worthy of note. The theater runs afternoon and evening.

There is no extra charge for witnessing Leona's act at 2 and 9:10 o'clock. The toboggan, foot mine and other concessions are in first class running order.

Another evidence of the determination of the management to give the patrons the comforts of the park's patrons is shown in the establishment of drinking fountains one on each side of the entrance to the free theater. Two expensive fountains were put in to free the waters in the fountains from all possible impurities.

JOSE CONCERT COMPANY AT HAMILTON HALL THIS EVENING.

The Fuhrer Quartet, with the Jose Grand Concert Company, are all former pupils of the Guild Hall and Music in London and have played in concert with great success at Covent Garden, London. Ruth Estelle Weston, one of the greatest vocalists of the day, and a handsomely trained work, fresh from European triumphs, is also a valued member of the Jose Concert Company. Her voice is of great range, power and sweetness, having been trained under the best masters in Europe. She is considered one of the handsomest women now before the public.

The Jose company appears in Oakland tonight only, at Hamilton Hall and it will be a great treat to see this excellent company.

"PRINCE" GIVEN TO RUSSIA

ESCAPE FROM SIBERIA HAD $50,000 IN HIS POSSESSION.

NEW YORK, April 11.—"Prince" Savine, who was arrested at Bremen Saturday at the request of the Russian consul has, says a Herald dispatch from Berlin, been conveyed to the frontier and turned over to the Russian authorities, as was also the sum of $50,000 which he had in his possession.

A statement made by Savine in a newspaper interview after his arrest contains several allusions recalling the career (although not positively identifying him) of Nicholas E. Savine, who, under various aliases, among them Count of Toulou-Lautrec, attained an international reputation as a swindler. Once he came within striking distance of procuring the throne of Bulgaria. Savine is a native of Russia and escaped from Siberia where he had been sent on charges of forgery. After serving a year in prison he was released and departed for Europe. After many adventures he was arrested

In Chicago in 1900, charged with forgery.

MASKED MEN ROB ON THE ALAMEDA

SAN JOSE, April 11.—Two masked men held up the Fredericksburg resort on the Alameda late last night. Besides Frank Schuman, the proprietor, and J. W. Moor, the bartender, there were five customers in the saloon. The highwaymen lined up the customers with drawn revolvers. They ransacked the place and searched the men, securing $50 in cash, two hand-some gold watches and a diamond ring. There was $200 in the safe and the proprietor refused the demand that he open it. The robber seemed about to shoot, when his companion interfered.

The robbers were young and evidently experienced, but the victims were scared they could not give a good description of them. It is believed there were two confederates standing guard outside during the robbery.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Tribune Publishing Company.

William E. Dargie, President

Revivals Versus True Religion.

Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church, and noted as much for his shrewd common sense as for his pulpit eloquence, has written for the Pacific a commentary on the Oakland revival that is worthy of the study of all thoughtful Christians. It is in Dr. Brown's best vein, minus the shrewd humor which so often sauces his sermons and addresses. After speaking of the series of great meetings, accompanied by the usual emotional demonstrations, he laments that something was lacking in the spirit of it all and the result pitifully small. He says:

"During the meetings large choruses of young people faithfully practiced and loyally sang the merry tunes which were used almost to the exclusion of the great hymns which have voiced the worship and aspiration of Christendom. Scores of young men served night after night as ushers in caring for the crowds, and hundreds of our most devoted people were present at all the services as personal workers. The theater billboards all over the city showed huge posters inviting people to the meetings, twenty-five thousand cards of invitation were personally delivered at as many homes, and the town was sown thick day after day with cards by the tens of thousands announcing the meetings for the next day. Nor have the unseen forces been forgotten, for it was plain to everybody that though Paul may plant and Apollos may water, some one else must give the increase. It has been a time of earnest, expectant and widespread prayer for God's blessing upon the movement."

"And now that the echoes of 'Glory Song' have died away," he asks, "the thoughtful people in the churches are asking, 'What has been accomplished?' Here," he adds, "the meager results are a profound disappointment to those who entered into the movement with high expectation."

Was Dr. Brown among these? We doubt it, for Dr. Brown is too sane and honest a man with himself to be misled by the mere sound and fury of devotional exercise given forth in the absence of that exalted spirit which from time to time spontaneously moves whole communities to quit their fields, their workshop, their counting rooms, their pleasures and pastimes—and even their sins, to commune together, in self-examination and repentance, in wrapt contemplation of the majesty and mercy of the Creator. He knows that all the external manifestations of these spontaneous gatherings to praise God and deplore sinfulness are a vain show if the multitude be not moved by the spirit, does not feel its impulse from within instead of without. The professional evangelist can no more set that spirit to working than can a clown in a circus. Stage settings, scenery and actors do not make a revival any more than the rite of baptism can make righteousness. That we have not misinterpreted Dr. Brown is proved by this paragraph:

"Personally I do not believe that the more thoughtful people of any community will be really moved by religious teaching which ignores, as completely as these evangelists are doing, the whole modern point of view of theology, the well-established results of recent Biblical scholarship and the present emphasis on social service as the main expression of religious life. In all the sermons and addresses to which I listened (and I attended every meeting in our district, midnight meeting, theater services, and all), I never heard a single sentence indicating that they were conscious of the fact that a mass of social injustice lies heavy upon the hearts of God's people, that professing Christians share in the responsibility for certain inequalities so glaring as to be cruel, or that the increasing application of the principles of the Sermon on the Mount to industrial conditions is one of the most imperative duties at the present time. No one expected that the evangelists would enter upon any sort of social propaganda, but there was time to give a whole afternoon to the consideration of the exceeding sinfulness of a family game of whist or of a company of young people dancing together; there was time to argue the 'spiritual ineffectiveness' of the man who does not believe that Moses wrote the Pentateuch or who doubts the single authorship of the book of Isaiah, but the note of social responsibility was never once struck in my hearing. Such a distribution of time and interest seemed to many like titling mint, anise and cummin, to the omission of the weightier matters of justice and mercy."

Good for the plain-spoken pastor of the Congregational Church. Would there were more clergymen like him—men with the courage to declare that man's responsibility to man is equal to man's responsibility to God. As Christ said, "What ye did even to the meanest of these, ye did even unto me." Good or evil, man's treatment of his fellow measures his respect for and obedience to the commandments of the Almighty.

Judge Hal's Deserved Promotion.

The appointment of Judge Samuel P. Hall to the District Court of Appeals will be universally commended in Alameda county. It is a deserved honor to a high-minded, able and courageous jurist, whose record on the Superior Bench has been in every way admirable. It is highly complimentary to Judge Hall that Governor Pardoe should have singled him out of a large number of distinguished jurists for preferment. And it cannot be said that the Governor had not chosen wisely. He has given the Appellate bench a jurist who will adorn it and never fail in his duty, if his past performance be a guaranty of what he will do in the future. THE TRIBUNE congratulates the Governor, the people and Judge Hall.

If the Polish workmen stick to their resolution to boycott vodka they will do much better for themselves than depriving the Russian government of a source of revenue. They will strike at the slavery of drink as well as the tyranny of the Czar.

In a recent Arizona pistol duel the principals emptied their revolvers without hitting anybody. In discharging them from custody, the local magistrate remarked that their "marksmanship was a disgrace to Arizona." Has the editor of the Kicker been elected to the bench down there?

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says the two million dollar donation of Stephen Girard for the erection and support of Girard College would have been rejected had the contention of Dr. Washington Gladden been subscribed to at that time. "What about the money that founded Stanford University, Johns Hopkins University and the money that build Old Faneuil Hall?"

Charlotte Perkins Gilman says men are more beautiful than women. Charlotte has probably been studying her own mirror for a composite reflection of the softer sex. We take it that she would never dream of marrying a woman.

The experiment of publishing a newspaper and giving it away trusting to the volume of advertising that would result from a large gratis circulation has come to grief in Detroit. The people did not care to read a newspaper that was given away and the merchants declined to advertise in a sheet that nobody had to buy and nobody cared to read. So the scheme of making something out of nothing proved a failure.

Torturing a Friendless Woman

The treatment by the police of the Tortorici woman, as reported in the San Francisco papers, is a barbarous and shocking abuse of authority. It is as illegal as it is brutal and inhuman. The miserable creature has been held in close confinement for days—which is justifiable enough under the circumstances—and constantly put through a terrifying cross-examination, accompanied by dire threats and accusations with no friendly witness or attorney present (which is both unlawful and cruel) that some confession of guilt or knowledge of guilt may be extorted. The police dragged her shrieking into the presence of the mangled body of the murdered Vilardo, and held her there screaming and shuddering in superstitious terror while they questioned her in fierce threatening tones. They threatened to take away her five months old babe if she did not confess, and in many ways practiced torture and intimidation on this poor friendless woman.

It is all revoltingly horrible. That such unlawful tortures can be practiced on accused persons in a great city like San Francisco is a reproach to its inhabitants. It is singular that the story of them is published in the press without a single note of disapproval. It is doubly strange that a woman can be subjected to such atrocious treatment without a word of protest.

It is axiomatic in our system of jurisprudence that every person is presumed to be innocent until proved guilty. It is also a fundamental principle of law that no one can be punished in advance of trial and conviction in accordance with prescribed forms. Under no circumstances is torture admissible. Yet we have punishment and torture in advance of trial—punishment for suspected instead of established guilt, and torture to extort a confession thereof. It is outrageous, scandalous, horrible.

The police would not dare practice such infamies against a person of means and influence, but it seems anything may be done with impunity to this wretched, ignorant Italian woman. She may be guilty for aught we know—probably is—but nevertheless her rights under the law are as sacred as those of any other person; otherwise our codes might as well be written in the sand and the word justice stricken from the statutes.

Professor Osburne has discovered the skeleton remains of the "four-toed horse" in the United States. If he will continue his researches he may finally determine the Six-toed Pete was the original progenitor of the horse.

Owen Wister's charming frontier story, "The Virginian," is making a glittering financial success of a very poor play presented by a shabby lot of actors. It is a sorry reflection on the taste and discrimination of the theater-going public of Oakland that "The Virginian" packed the Macdonough to the doors while the Savage Opera Company played to empty benches. No wonder the drama is commercialized and degraded when the public patronizes cheap and tawdry melodramas played by third-rate actors to the exclusion of well-mounted, well-played standard plays. A musical farce comedy in which nobody can sing and the humor of which mostly consists of horseplay and vulgar puns and coarse double-entendres will crowd theaters, while real operas well sung by real artists can scarcely make expenses. No wonder we have fallen on an era of Cheap John and stage-faking in the show business.

When the Advice of This Oakland Resident Will Help You.

Very few people are entirely free from backache. It does not take much to derange the kidneys. A little cold, a strain, stooping positions or hard work, overtaxes those delicate organs, and many aches and pains promptly follow. An Oakland citizen tells you here how every kidney ail can be relieved and cured. Read about it:

Walter J. Plumber, of 1228 Versailles avenue, Alameda, jeweler, in employ of Geo. R. Moss & Co., says: "If the contraction of a cold which settled across the small of my back was not the primary cause of the aching in that part of my anatomy, I knew positively that when I caught a cold aggravation of the trouble was apparent. I have persistently and conscientiously tried medicines when these attacks were at their height but I met with very indifferent success. From reading an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills in a newspaper I was induced to go to a drug store for a box. Relief followed the treatment in a few days and since I stopped using the pills there has not been a sign of a recurrence."

CONCERNING WOMEN.

The Japanese nurses are perhaps the best in the whole world, says a writer. Their sweetness of temperament and their patience are marvelous, and as (curiously enough) they are quite indifferent to suffering, they are always calm in difficult circumstances. I have seen them assisting in the most cruel operations with quiet movements, smiling faces and incredible presence of mind.

Instead of writing quotations on your luncheon cards in the usual way, write the first part of one quotation on the face of the card and the last part of another on the back. Then, when your guests are seated, let one read from the face of her card, while the rest look at the backs of theirs, and try to find the rest of the sentence. Eventually everybody "matches up," but not until a good deal of merry guessing has gone on, if the hostess has done her part well by using rare quotations and makes them more mystifying by choosing those that are somewhat alike.

The successful wife keeps on hand a little boon in case of need. She keeps a surprise tucked up her sleeve, where it can be fired on a moment's notice. Maybe it is a carnation for his coat lapel; maybe it is his favorite pudding served extra; perhaps it is the baby's picture framed for his desk. Something she always has ready, and when his affection needs jogging she does not hesitate to do the jogging. Why, a bunch of violets or a knot of bright ribbon where it adds the most to the wife's charms almost make a man forget that he is hungry. A saucy pinch with the usual kiss, or a merry jest with the accustomed greeting, will almost make a man forget that he is married to the adorable creature. A stage whisper now and then and twinkle of mischief is worth hours of cooing. The woman who buries her roughness on her wedding day robs her home of much of its happiness.

Few women continue in the limelight for so many years as Mrs. William R. Taft, wife of the Secretary of War, has without having photographs taken. Mrs. Taft "sat" for the first time since her girlhood a few days ago, and while the result was not as satisfactory as her friends would wish, all were delighted to get her picture. Mrs. Taft is an exceedingly attractive woman, slender as a girl, with clear skin and soft light brown hair. She is the youngest of the cabinet hostesses.

That a woman's intuition is more trustworthy than a man's judgment has long been conceded by unbiased masculines. A good test—a perennial one—is furnished by the United States Treasury at Washington. The late General Spinner—whose signature was so "fearfully and wonderfully made"—declared as the result of long years of experience as superintendent of that department that women were worth ten times as much as men in the matter of counterfeits alone. "A man always has a reason for a counterfeit," said the general, "but he is wrong half the time. A woman never has a reason. She says 'tis counterfeit because it is counterfeit, and she's always right—though she couldn't tell how she found it out if she were to be hung for not knowing."

NO DANGER IN REAL WORK, BUT BEWARE OF DRUDGERY

There is no danger in work—the risk lies in drudgery.

Work is good, brave, noble, all sorts of things that are uplifting and beautifying. But once a woman lets herself take it in a dull and spiritless fashion there is little chance for her youth and good looks. Busy people live long and are well preserved; toiling people are old and bent at 30.

If it is your lot to be the daughter of an economical father or the wife of a struggling husband, and if the assistance of a maid has not been given to you, take up your duties about the house and make the best of them. Enter into them with a good will and beware of the dangers in the path. If you bear in mind the risks you run and determine not to fall victim to them, you will come out as dainty and well groomed as your sister who keeps several servants and never puts her hand to anything more homely than the writing of society notes.

First of all, hands show the sign of hard work of this nature. Watch them with an eagle eye and devote some effort to them. You cannot expect to keep their girlish whiteness and smoothness unless you take pains to secure the result. If you never have your hands in dishwater mingled with the powerful alkali of soap, if you never scrub floors, if you never peel potatoes and fruits—it will be a very simple matter to attend to the hands. You do all of those things; consequently you must give yourself at least fifteen minutes each day and half an hour or more once a week, to diligent manikuring.

You know that the skin surrounding the nail must be pushed back every day with an orangewood stick. This is done when the hands have been in water a while. Then the skin is soft and pushed readily. If you are thrifty of time you will go through this process after the morning dishwashing, and so take advantage of the thorough soaking the skin has had.

At the same time you should clean the nails thoroughly with the small end of the stick. Any foreign matter lying under them will be softened by the warm water and can be removed thoroughly and easily.

But first of all, after the siege at the sink, wash the hands with tepid water and toilet soap to rid them of the suds of harsh soap which you have been using in the kitchen. Possibly you have a sensitive skin which crinkles from being in the water so long. To rid it of the unpleasant feeling and appearance, rub the hands with a softening solution; then go to work with the orangewood stick. An agreeable lotion is made in this way: Melt together two ounces sweet almond oil and one ounce white wax; remove from the stove; beat, adding gradually three drops attar of roses.

Later in the day you will find all kinds of stains creeping in under the nails, about the edges of them, into any cracks that there may be in the skin. Dusting with a cloth is very harmful to the hands, unless you take pains to avoid the troublesome results.

Just as soon as the work is done cleanse your hands. In some cases it will require a bit of lemon juice to do this. Fruit and vegetable stains are made fast and lasting by soap. Picking over raspberries for instance is a labor which leaves its marks for a week if the hands are washed with soap immediately after. Instead of this take a lemon or a green tomato and work to remove the dark stains with the acid juice before washing in the conventional way.

If the stain is merely that of ordinary dirt, such as comes from dusting and sweeping, an ordinary soap-and-water scrub is sufficient if it is prompt. Give the grime time to work in and it is not so easily worked out. Never, no matter what the temptation, clean the nails with the steel. This vicious instrument scrapes the grime away and leaves the nails white for a time, but it has scraped the delicate under surface of the nail in the process and the next grime adheres more firmly. If you have been accustomed to the steel it will be very hard to break yourself into using the orangewood; it seems to have no effect at first; the dark line is not removed by it. But wait until the nail grows out and a new surface appears, then the stick will take effect.

The hands of the housewife pass so much time in hot water and are so much exposed to the weather, what with hanging out clothes and so on, that chapping is a frequent annoyance. Wear gloves as much as possible. You can easily arrange to do this when hanging the washing on the line—it is nothing but foolish to do this on a cold day with hands which have just come from the almost scalding water. If the chapping will come in spite of wise precaution, use a good solution occasionally and you will have little trouble. A mixture of fifty centigrams of tannin, with 100 grams of rosewater and twenty grams of glycerine will cure a stubborn case of chapping.

The polishing paste and powder are used only once a week by most people. The houseworker will probably find herself in need of these twice a week. Apply the rose-tinted and tinting paste in a small quantity to each of the ten daintily cleaned nails; rub it in with a buffer, kept for the purpose and consequently stained with the paste; remove the paste clinging to the skin at the nails' edges with a soft cloth; dip another buffer into the powder and finish off with a rub of this, which gives a diamond-like shine. The polish will return to the nails at any time after washing the hands if you will give them a moment's dash with the buffer. It is popular at present to rub the nails upon the palms, but most hands have too much natural moisture to make this effective.

The feet must be considered in housework. Long walks are not as hard for them as the hours passed in standing at the sink, the table, the stove. They are inclined to swell, ache and in the end corns, bunions and ingrowing nails are the sorry results.

A hot foot bath at night wards off many an ache. Add to a bowl of water a tablespoonful of baking soda and the relief is wonderful.

When there are symptoms of corns apply a little vasoline to the symptoms daily, rubbing it in. The symptom, as you know, is a small callous spot.

If the feet are inclined to perspire unduly bathe them occasionally with alcohol. This is restful besides.

Choose easy but not slouchy shoes for the house. The heels should be low and you should force yourself to tread these firmly. Do not let the feet roll to the side when standing. If you have a habit of doing this the heel will quickly turn telltale by wearing off at one edge. As soon as this happens send the shoe to a repairer to level the heel, a thing which costs only a few cents. Thereupon reform. Much pain in the feet is caused by improper standing.

Do not economize by wearing stockings full of darns. These rub into the feet cruelly, sometimes bringing about corns. With good little stockings selling everywhere at thirty-five cents a pair this wearing of old hosiery and wasting eyesight and time in the mending of it is mistaken economy.

Beware of allowing your joints to grow stiff. Take enough exercise outside of housework to keep yourself supple, or take such pains to move lightly about the house that the suppleness will last without other aid. In bending and rising, do not allow yourself to feel or appear stiff. If your work is really so hard that you go to bed aching, get some one to rub you, and if this is impossible, rub yourself. This is less restful, but it is, nevertheless, of some use. Pour out a little alcohol into the palm of the hand, then rub briskly, repeating until the skin glows. Finish with the flesh brush, and go to bed with the determination to sleep—or, rather, that sleep will come of itself, for this is a more restful mood.

There is likely to be a time each morning when you are quite alone in your little kingdom. Why not devote this time, even if only an hour or less, to letting the hair loose to rest it from coils and pins? Tie it loosely at the neck, to keep it out of your way, then go about your work with it hanging, as it did when you were a girl. And if your husband should come home a bit early and find it so, perhaps he won't mind.

SPOILED A GOOD THING.

The Broker's Cook Could Not Stand Prosperity.

A young broker's wife had at last procured a cook with skill in her line and suburban staying powers. But the spell was soon broken by the husband while his wife was at the shore for a few weeks. "Selma," he said one day to the Norwegian Jew, "if you have a couple of hundred dollars saved up I'll double it on the street for you today." So the trusting servant turned over to the young broker $100 of her year's savings. That night the broker, returning home, entered through the side gate. As he passed the kitchen door he saw the prize cook preparing dinner. "Selma," he called. "Look here! It's all yours!" And he held up a roll of bills. "All for me!" she gasped. "How much is it?" "Five hundred and forty dollars," said the broker. "Ay, work no more. Ay go back to Norway tonight," and, grabbing the money, she darted upstairs. The broker ate his dinner that night at a suburban restaurant, and now the couple have a city apartment.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

LITTLE GIRL'S REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

LARAMIE, Wyo., April 11.—A little girl by the name of O'Connor has had a remarkable escape from death beneath the wheels of a locomotive. The child, with two others, was crossing the Union Pacific tracks on her way to school. Her companions passed in front of an approaching freight train and called to her to follow. She hesitated, and then, when the train was barely ten feet away, made the dash. Directly in the center of the track her feet slipped and she fell on her hands and knees. The pilot of the locomotive struck her and threw her into the air, where she turned a complete somersault and again fell on the track. The engineer meanwhile had reversed, and the locomotive stopped with the pilot over the child's body. Had the engine gone another foot she would have been crushed to death. She was found to be severely bruised.

WOMEN'S PAGE

WOMAN SAYS THAT LIFE IN FLATS IS CAUSING INSANITY.

LONDON, April 11.—The growth of flat life in London, which becomes more rapid each year, is coming to be regarded with some alarm by public health experts.

Medical men and poor law guardians (who come in contact with many lunacy cases) are firmly of opinion that flat life is responsible for an undue proportion of the lunacy increase, which is costing the London ratepayers an enormous sum of money every year.

A woman guardian in a working class district was emphatic upon the point. "My experience as a regular visitor to blocks of flats inhabited by the poor is that the state of mind of the dwellers on the fourth, fifth and sixth floor has to face a vast flight of stairs every time she wishes to reach the fresh air. Hence she goes out as seldom as possible, sees no one, has no contact with the busy life around her, the deadly monotony of London flat and generally sinks into that gloomy life is a direct cause of many of the state of mind which leads to the lunatic asylums of which the public only hears in the bulk, from statistics. "I have constantly been struck by the large number of women living in flats who have to be removed to the asylum."

"The conclusion to which I have come is that flat life, by reason of the seclusion and consequent dullness which it imposes upon women, is one of the deadliest perils threatening London women of today."

"Except in the West End, flats rarely have lifts, with the result that the dweller on the fourth, fifth and sixth floor has to face a vast flight of stairs every time she wishes to reach the fresh air. Hence she goes out as seldom as possible, sees no one, has no contact with the busy life around her, the deadly monotony of London flat and generally sinks into that gloomy life is a direct cause of many of the state of mind which leads to the lunatic asylums of which the public

WOMAN SAYS SHE SEES SIN WITH HER HYPNOTIC EYE.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Manna Mysteria is collecting about her apostles, marriageable men and women, and all who have faith in Sunday seances at the "Chimney Corner." Twenty-fifth street and Sixth avenue.

It was in this same "Chimney Corner" a year ago that "Joe" Vendig drew his disciples about him and organized a psalm singing association, whose quarters the police raided in mistake for a poolroom.

Manna Mysteria had a seance last night, but as her fame is yet young and as there are many scoffers, only eight persons were present to see her perform miracles. Four of these were women. Each, on paying a quarter at the door, was subjected to a searching examination which amounted almost to a massage, in the hands of the mystic. She used her hypnotic eyes on all to see if there was sin in their souls. Two reporters were among the eight who passed the scrutiny and got in. But doubts filled the heart of Manna Mysteria as to their genuineness, and while they remained she refrained from performing the promised miracles.

The woman is of middle age. She wears her straight hair hanging to her shoulders, and a white bath robe, held by a cord and tassel, is her only clothing. Last night she sang psalms from the Methodist hymnal, and told the audience to read her magazine and attain heavenly light. The magazine in addition to explaining how heavenly light can be attained contains advertisements for marriageable men and women.

"A woman is desired as wife," one advertisement reads, "who will be satisfactory to the editor of this magazine."

Manna Mysteria announces that she will conduct meetings twice each Sunday at the Chimney Corner until the place gets so small to accommodate the faithful who will flock about her.

ATHLETIC WOMAN TELLS HOW SHE WHIPPED POLICEMAN.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The honor of beating a policeman in a set-to in her own home, and winding up the fight by hammering the man over the head with his own revolver and driving him from the house, is only lightly regarded by Miss Etta Rumph, of 2822 Canarsie lane, Flatbush, the former captain of the Flatbush Baseball Team and winner of the third prize in a two-mile swimming match at Sheephead Bay.

Harry McVey, a patrolman attached to the Gates avenue station, Brooklyn, has been identified as the man with whom Miss Rumph had the encounter, and it is understood that charges have been preferred against him by Inspector Murphy.

As soon as McVey's injuries permit him to leave the house he will probably be brought to trial, and Miss Rumph will be asked to tell how she put the policeman in confusion.

TALL AND ATHLETIC.

Miss Rumph told of the encounter at her home yesterday. She is nineteen years old, tall and handsome and of athletic build.

"I had just come down the stairs when the doorbell rang. I answered and found a big man with a strong odor of whiskey. He inquired if a man to assist in moving furniture was wanted. I told him no, and he left muttering.

"After supper he came again and said 'Joe the blacksmith' would aid us with the moving. I told him we wanted nothing to do with him and started to close the door when he seized me around the waist.

"After a struggle I reached the parlor door and called my uncle, Joseph Healy. By the time my uncle came out I had shaken the man off.

"SWUNG MY RIGHT."

"As soon as I was free I swung with my right and caught him on the point of the chin, knocking him down. When he got up I hit him another punch and knocked him down again. By this time my uncle and I had the man cornered on the stairs.

"He reached into his pocket and pulled out a revolver. I took it away from him and would have shot him had not my uncle been in the way. I had to content myself with beating him over the head with the butt of the pistol. I'll bet he will remember that beating, for I put all my strength in to the blows.

"As soon as he could get up he fled, and that is the last I saw of him."

Miss Rumph illustrated her narrative with swings at an imaginary foe, and her eyes sparkled as she recalled the battle.

Miss Rumph is the daughter of David Rumph, a retired builder, and has always taken a great interest in athletics.

THE POLICEMAN'S STORY.

Policeman McVey, at his home, No. 518 St. Mark's avenue, Brooklyn, gave an entirely different version of the encounter. He said:

"I was walking through Franklin avenue and saw a young woman beckoning to me. I went to the door, and as I stepped inside her uncle began to beat me over the head with some heavy article. The blows stunned me, and when I came to I found they had gone. I went outside and rang for a patrol wagon. When it arrived the policeman with the wagon ordered me away. I told them I was a policeman, but they threatened to take me to the station house."

LITTLE GIRL'S REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

LARAMIE, Wyo., April 11.—A little girl by the name of O'Connor has had a remarkable escape from death beneath the wheels of a locomotive. The child, with two others, was crossing the Union Pacific tracks on her way to school. Her companions passed in front of an approaching freight train and called to her to follow. She hesitated, and then, when the train was barely ten feet away, made the dash. Directly in the center of the track her feet slipped and she fell on her hands and knees. The pilot of the locomotive struck her and threw her into the air, where she turned a complete somersault and again fell on the track. The engineer meanwhile had reversed, and the locomotive stopped with the pilot over the child's body. Had the engine gone another foot she would have been crushed to death. She was found to be severely bruised.

ALAMEDA OARSMAN TO ENTER SENIOR RACES.

George Shroeder, Promising Single Sculler, Will Increase

WASHINGTON'S BOAT CREW HERE.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 11.—The crews representing Stanford University and the University of Washington will meet this week on the water for the first time in the history of the two universities.

The exact date has not yet been decided upon, but it will be either next Thursday or Friday. It was intended to have the race on the Redwood Slough, where there is a good straight-away course of a mile or more, but Manager Barrett of the Stanford crew has returned from San Francisco with the news that he had found a superb course at Sausalito.

This was brought to his attention by a letter from an old Cornell oarsman recently published. It is expected that this course will ultimately solve the problem of suitable waters for a race with the University of California.

The trouble with the Redwood course is that there are not suitable accommodations for the spectators who would naturally be attracted by the race. At Sausalito there is an electric railway following the shore, and many thousands could witness the contest from the cars. The place is so wide that there would be room for hay carts of all descriptions, and followers of boating would be enabled to watch every foot of the two-mile struggle.

If Washington will consent, the race will be held at Sausalito.

Although the Cardinal crew has not been finally selected it is probable the following men will appear in the four-oared boat on the day of the race: Stroke, W. H. Dele, captain; No. 3, E. Zimmerman; No. 2, B. Bryant; bow, H. G. Butterfield. A merry struggle for coxswain is in progress between E. V. Henley and C. W. Henderson.

The Washington squad of oarsmen arrived at Stanford campus today.

DICK HYLAND, MATCHED TO FIGHT JOE REILLY.

Much rivalry exists between the respective followers of Dick Hyland and Joe Reilly, who are to meet at Grass Valley next Saturday night.

Reilly is training at Nevada City and it is whispered about that he is working harder than he ever did before.

The Nevada City fight fans are much impressed with Reilly's showing in the gymnasium and they will back him heavily to win.

Hyland is training at Grass Valley, and he has created about the same impression with the Grass Valley sports as Reilly has in his town.

Nevada City and Grass Valley never could hitch well together and the rivalry of the two towns has increased the interest in the coming fight. To hear the admirers of the two boxers discussing the strong points in each of their favorites reminds one of the heated discussions developed at a Presidential election.

Hyland is of Cornish and Irish parents. And was born in Grass Valley and the miners think Dick is good enough to lick his weight in wild cats. They throng into his gymnasium each afternoon and whenever he lands a punch on Tommy West, who is Dick's sparring partner, they yell their approval in good fashion.

Reilly's followers turn out just as strong in the afternoon to see him work and when Joe wallops it on some ambitious boxer who has been daring enough to put on the gloves with him the crowd smiles its approval pretty much the same as the Hyland crowd does and when Reilly hits the bag a bit hard it usually brings forth a round of applause from the crowd.

Gus Hassey, a prominent sporting man of Nevada City, is making up a big party to go to the contest.

The impression here in Oakland is that Reilly will give Hyland a hard fight. His contest with Danny Sullivan and Patsy Hogan in this city were good ones and his advantage in weight over Hyland makes the contest look more even. They are to box at catch weights.

GEORGE SHROEDER, OF THE ALAMEDA BOAT CLUB.

Of all the boat clubs about the bay the Alameda Boat Club has been most successful in producing champion oarsmen.

Captain E. E. Thourning says that this year will be no exception. He has under his care this year more ambitious oarsmen than ever before.

George Shroeder will enter all the senior races this year.

He has won the junior barge race at Lake Merritt, July 4, 1903; senior barge, Astoria, Ore., August 18, 1903; intermediate barge, Lake Merritt, July 4, 1904, and senior barge, Lake Merritt, July 4, 1904.

Mr. Shroeder is looked upon by the oarsmen as the most promising single sculler around the bay.

He is a faithful trainer and can nearly always be found out on the estuary. The Alameda Boat Club wishes him the best of success.

SQUEEZE PLAY FITZ WILLING NOT NEW TO FIGHT TO US. HART

The special correspondents who are in the South with the New York American League team are burning up good money sending long telegraphic reports to their papers about a new play Griffith's men have invented.

The play is called the "squeeze play." With a man on third and one man out, the batter signals the base runner that he will batter the next ball pitched. The runner gets a start with the pitcher's arm, and runs for the plate, regardless of consequences. If the batter succeeds in bunting the ball the runner is over the plate before a fielder can even touch the ball.

As experienced, a baseball writer at Sam Crane is using up columns of space telling about this "new" play. These Eastern experts should come out of their shells at the bat. The signal was that play on the coast for the last three years, and have not made any fuss about it either.

Three years ago when Dugdale of Seattle had that fast-flying, light-titting bunch, that looked like champs for about four months, that play was shown. In a game with Spokane, with the score a tie, Bill Hurley was on third and Gus Kieft was at the bat. The signal was given and Bill dashed for the plate. Gus tapped the ball and Bill was home before a Spokane man had touched the ball. Tacoma pulled off that play dozens of times last year. Lynch and Nordlie being especially good at it. McLaughlin was another man who could be depended upon to hit the ball somewhere in a pinch of that kind. Seattle worked it a number of times last year, and in fact all the teams in this league had that play in their repertoire.

Maybe it was Hal Chase who put the New Yorkers on to the play, for they began to work it the second day after the youngster arrived in the South. The play is a pretty one to watch, but it has been pulled off so many times here that even the fans in the stands know when the signal is given. Mike Lynch's slide home twice last year in one game, and maybe a play like that, wouldn't make the big leaguers sit up and take notice.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuelli, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 24 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick, and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Michigan. Bowman & Company, special agents.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Bob Fitzsimmons, who is showing here, when asked what he thought of Marvin Hart, said: "It looks like Johnson received a bad deal, but I am willing to fight him if he wants to make the match. I do not know much about him, but from what I have heard I guess he is a 'corner.' If Jeff doesn't take him on—and I understand he is not likely to—I will meet him."

Fitz has little hope of getting Jack O'Brien, Tommy Ryan or any middleweight to fight him.

INDEPENDENTS BASEBALL GAME.

HAYWARDS, April 11.—Despite the best efforts of the High School nine of this place they were defeated by the Independents of St. Mary's College in a hard game Saturday afternoon. The score was four to two. Lack of practice is the reason the Haywards boys give for their defeat.

By an error of the visiting nine Elbert Thurman made three bases without stopping in the third inning. The other run for the home team was made by George Kretzinger in the seventh inning.

The visitors' score was made as follows: One run by Roach in the first, one by Bricker in the second and another in the fifth, and a run by Hallinan in the eighth inning.

Frank Turner, who pitched for the High School, struck out four of the enemy and gave four their base on balls. Only four hits were made off him. The visitors made four errors and the home players ten. Eight hits were made by Haywards and seven of the men struck out.

HAYWARDS IS ON LARGE END

HAYWARDS, April 11.—By a score of 15 to 2 the nine representing Haywards conquered the Carroll Rye team of San Francisco in a hard-fought baseball game Sunday. The contest took place at the newly improved diamond here and was witnessed by a large number of the residents, as well as visitors from the city.

No runs were made until the fourth inning, when Haywards took a sudden brace and sent eight men over the plate. In the sixth the local team made four runs, in the seventh two and in the eighth only one. The Carroll Rye had not yet begun to score, making their two runs in the last inning.

The heaviest hitters were Platt and Nagle for Haywards and Rieterman for the others. Platt was at the bat four times, made four hits and three runs; Nagle landed three base hits and two runs, while Rieterman made three hits and one run. Meese and Platt of the home nine were each hit by a pitched ball, but were not much hurt. Eight Haywards men took first on balls. Three were struck out.

Oswell, pitching for the local players, struck out eight of the visitors and gave three their base on balls. Only eight hits were made by the Ryes, against fifteen by the Haywards boys.

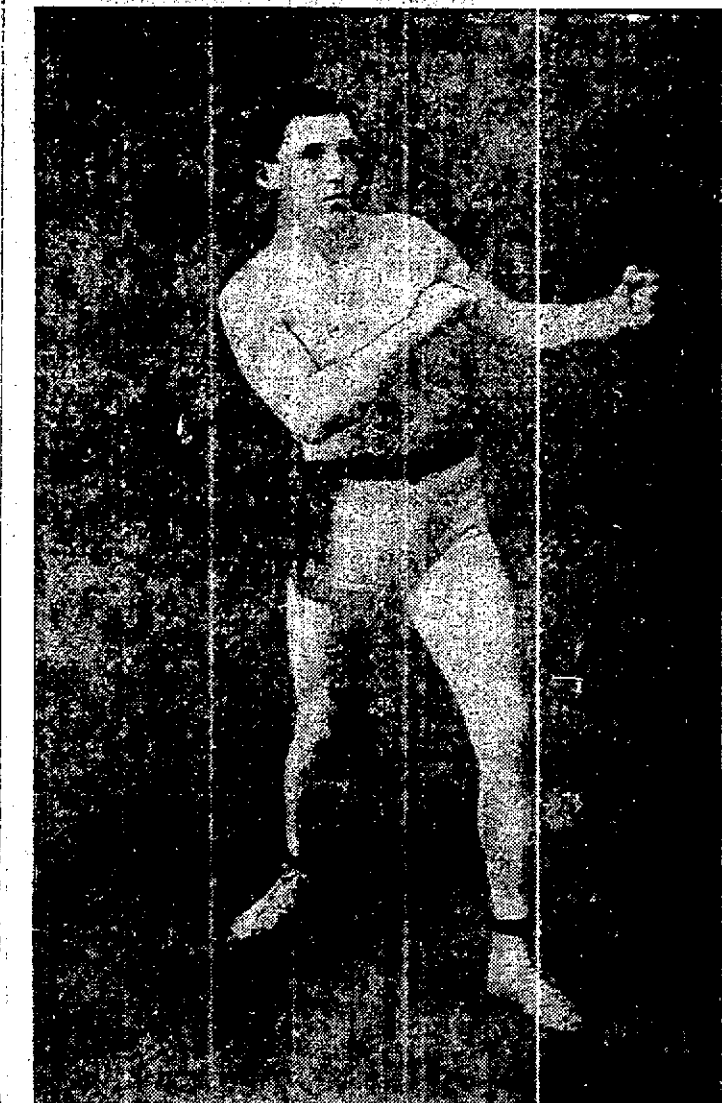

Both sides felled well and gave evidence of careful practice. Though there were no sensational plays, all the boys did good work and showed improvement over their form a week ago.

PAID FOR TEETH.

NEW YORK, April 11.—A verdict of $2500 has been returned by a Supreme Court jury against a street railroad company here for the loss of two teeth by a passenger. The plaintiff in the case was knocked down by a guard against whom he had crowded. The blow from the guard's fist destroyed two of his best teeth. Witnesses declared that the assault was unjustifiable.

REORGANIZATION.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The reorganization plans of the Standard Rope and Twine Company have been practically completed, according to the Herald, and it is expected formal announcement will be made within a short time. It is understood that the reorganization will provide $1,000,000 new cash. This amount has been undervritten.

BOB CAIRNS, WHO IS TO MEET BOB LUNDIE.

An excellent card of bouts has been arranged for the regular monthly boxing show of the Hayes Valley Athletic Club, which will be held next Friday evening in Woodward's Pavilion, San Francisco.

The main event will be provided by Bob Lundie and Bob Cairns, who were the stars in the last Olympic Club tournament. Their battle went four rounds, and so even was it that an extra round was required to allow the judges to make a decision, and then Lundie got the prize.

When these boys meet next Friday evening Cairns will strive to reverse this decision, and many of those who have seen him at work say that Lundie has an awful fight on his hands.

A special event which well might be classed as a main event will be the meeting of Abe Label and Johnny Crowe for 130 pounds.

the featherweight championship of the coast. Crowe is the holder of the title, but there are many who think that Label is good enough to take it away from him, and so a battle royal is anticipated.

A special bout between the two promising welters, Dick Sullivan and Harry Riley, also looks to be of the main event order. The boys have fought before and made an exciting go of their last battle. Sullivan won a close decision, which Riley is confident of reversing.

The rest of this good card follows: Harry Baker, Eureka Valley Club, vs. Joe Collins, Star Club, 105 pounds (the winner matched with Eddie Cordell next month); Frank Gordon, Hayes Valley Club, vs. Jack Riley, Hayes Valley Club, 138 pounds; William Duffy, Marion Club, vs. Tomlinson McGovern, Newsboys' Union, 125 pounds; William McBride, Marion Club, vs. Jim Ford, Hayes Valley Club, 130 pounds.

NEWS FROM TOWNS ADJACENT TO OAKLAND

REPUBLICANS SWEEP RAILROAD UNIVERSITY TOWN RATE TALK

Complete Victory For Candidates Put Forward by "Grand Old Party"

—New Blood in Control.

BERKELEY, April 11.—A Republican wave struck Berkeley yesterday, during the municipal election, and on its crest was carried every Republican candidate on the ticket, assuring the University town of a thoroughly Republican administration for two years to come. The Non-Partisan candidates, including some who had held office in Berkeley for many years, all (save one school director) met defeat at the polls, and in most instances their places will be taken by younger men, representatives of the influx of new blood and life into Berkeley and its politics.

Town Attorney Hayne, for 11 years Berkeley's legal advisor, gives way to Harry H. Johnson, a rising young lawyer, associated with Assemblyman W. H. Waste, in the latter's law office.

Town Engineer Huggins, for a dozen years supreme in his office, and reputed to have amassed a fortune from his fees, which aggregated in one year about $12,000, was defeated by W. F. McClure.

Assessor Wells, a veteran, and supposedly a fixture met defeat at the hands of F. L. Wharf.

The biggest vote of all was polled by August Vollmer, who defeated Marshal Kerns for reelection. Vollmer heads his ticket, with a majority over Kerns of 1537 votes. Kerns has been in office for years. Vollmer is a beginner in political life, an employee in the local post office.

Street Superintendent Turner succeeds himself, as do Clerk Merrill and Treasurer Lord.

The Republican trustees and school directors are elected, the complete vote for all candidates being as follows:

Transportation Expert Reviews Legislation for University Students

BERKELEY, April 11.—William R. Wheeler, a prominent San Francisco business man, whose career has brought him much experience in the fight for fair railway rates, addressed the college on commerce yesterday afternoon on the subject "President Roosevelt's Railroad Policy." He said in part:

"The net result of all the legislation of recent years in which attempts have been made to confer more power on the Interstate Commerce Commission has been beneficial to the railroad, but judging by the overwhelming vote with which the House of Representatives passed the Esch-Townsend bill another Congress will not pass without effective legislation for governmental regulation of railway rates."

"When in 1866 the Cullom Committee reported on the railroad question in the Senate it indicated the railroads of the country must exercise a degree of self-restraint in the granting of a privileged class by granting of passes. For all of these privileges there was and is no remedy in the common law. Their development to such tremendous proportions as now exist is primarily due to the short-sightedness and carelessness of the American people in allowing a secrecy of transactions to railway managers which should never have been permitted."

"It was once hoped that competition would be an effective force in regulating rates. This varies with the fact that five companies will soon control every important railroad in the United States. Regulation by law alone remains, but Supreme Court decisions have long since robbed the Interstate Commerce Commission of its real power in this regard."

"The message of President Roosevelt, commending itself to every fair-minded man in its moderation and evident desire to be just to all. Yet the President is firm. He says: 'I believe the Commission should be clothed with the power to decide what rate is unreasonable and to declare what shall be a reasonable rate to take its place. Such revised rates should go into effect immediately and remain in force until revised by the Commission. The Government must exercise increasing supervision over railroads. If this is not done there will be an increase of the present evils and finally more radical action.'"

"Against these moderate words the railroad lobbies have inveighed in long literature. The burden of their argument in its logical and that they have a monopoly of the services of all of the talent in the United States capable of deciding what is a reasonable rate. This is an absurdity. The men to regulate rates justly by law are available, the principle of regulation is eternally right and it is sure to come into effect."

THOMAS RICKARD, WHO WON OUT YESTERDAY BY SIX VOTES.

REPUBLICANS CARRY THE ELECTION

Old Party Succeeds in Capturing the Municipal Government of the Encinal City.

ALAMEDA, April 11.—The municipal election yesterday resulted in almost a clean sweep for the Republican ticket, the Citizens' Non-Partisan Party securing the election of but one candidate—Fritz Boehmer—who was chosen to fill one of the three vacancies in the Board of City Trustees by a good majority.

Charles E. Naylor, against whom the bitterest attacks of the opposition had been centered, was the Republican candidate for this office who failed of election, and he received one vote less than did Arthur B. Tarpey (Non-Partisan).

The total vote polled in the fifteen precincts was 2017. The total registration for Alameda City is 3771.

The Republican nominees for School Directors (three to be chosen) were all elected to office by substantial majorities. The Socialists, although they had no expectation of electing any candidate, polled a larger vote than usual. The totals of the votes cast for Republican and Non-Partisan nominees were as follows:

For City Trustees—William J. Gorman (Republican), 977; Charles E. Naylor (Republican), 815; Ernest J. Probst (Republican), 822; Fritz Boehmer (Non-Partisan), 871; Arthur B. Tarpey (Non-Partisan), 816; H. E. Mehlerts (Non-Partisan), 489; Benjamin J. Smith (Independent), 477.

For School Directors—John E. Barker (Republican), 1506; Brainerd C. Brown (Republican), 1036; William E. Kollmyer (Republican), 1064; Harold C. Ward (Non-Partisan), 634; Dr. Walter R. Hughes (Non-Partisan), 770.

A large number of "split" ballots were cast, and at a good many precincts ballots carelessly marked were thrown out in the count. In the fourth precinct 25 straight Republican votes were cast, 2 straight Non-Partisan ballots, twelve straight Socialist ballots and 77 "scratched" tickets.

Fritz Boehmer, one of the new City Trustees, is a pioneer resident of this city and highly esteemed, having taken an active interest in public matters here since Alameda was a hamlet. In former years he was prominent in the affairs of the old Alameda Improvement Association.

William J. Gorman has resided here for a dozen years or more, and identified himself with the interests of the community.

Ernest J. Probst is perhaps the youngest citizen ever elected to the Municipal Board. He received his schooling in this city, and for some years has been engaged in business at the West End.

The votes cast will be officially canvassed at the next session of the City Trustees, when the officials-elect will be sworn in for the performance of their duties.

BOYS DISCHARGED.
ALAMEDA, April 11.—Chester Phillips and Chester Slevin, two Oakland boys of tender age, charged with petty thefts, were discharged from the Pease Fred S. The lads were accused of taking articles from a launch near the Webster street bridge. They paid for the damage done, and the matter was settled without a trial.

A LOW DEATH RATE.
ALAMEDA, April 11.—Alameda had a very low death rate last month, as shown by the report of Health Officer L. W. Stidham just given out, as the Health Board failed to convene on the scheduled meeting night. There were but 13 deaths during the month, while there were 25 burials.

PATENT HAS CLOSE CALL.

Rev. A. J. Hanson, the pastor of the San Leandro Methodist Church, was nearly killed Saturday evening by a collision with the Haywards car. The accident happened at the corner of Chamalla street and San Lorenzo avenue, as the minister was returning from Elmhurst on his bicycle. He was ten feet ahead of the car, when he attempted to cross the track, not perceiving his danger. The motorist attempted to stop the car, but in vain. However, Mr. Hanson heard the bell and realizing his peril, threw himself backward just in time. His bicycle was run over and the wheels destroyed. He himself suffered some small bruises. The onlookers thought that he had been killed, as they were watching from the other side of the street and had turned their eyes away in horror. When they saw the pastor alive they thought it a miracle.
